PEACE FOR ALL NATIONS HOPE OF POPE BENEDICT.

Encyclical from Vatican Urges Warring Countries to Lay Down Their Arms and Return to the Brotherhood of Man—Three Great Powers Agree on Arbitration Treaties With the United States.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

ROME, Sept. 10.—The Osservatore Romano, the official organ of the Vatican, this evening publishes a pastoral letter from Pope Benedict XV, in the form of an encyclical to the episcopacy of the world. It contains the programme for the pontificate of Pope Benedict, which, summarized, calls for renewed efforts to spread religion throughout the world and urges peace and brotherhood among peoples and nations in fear of God.

The encyclical, which is addressed to the universal Catholic world, deals chiefly with the European war.

"Looking out upon the flock entrusted to our care," Pope Benedict says, "the immense spectacle of a general war has struck us with unutterable horror and sadness."

"When we see such a considerable portion of Europe devastated by fire and sword and drenched with the blood of Christians, it is incumbent upon us to embrace all without distinction, lambs and sheep, in the arms of paternal charity."

The Pope implores intercession for peace to the Virgin, whose nativity has just been celebrated, and then continues:

"We exhort most earnestly those who govern the destiny of the nations that they should bring themselves to a frame of mind whereby they may put aside all dissensions contrary to the welfare of humanity."

"Let them realize that there already is too much suffering and sorrow attached to this mortal life and that it should not be rendered more wretched or more sorrowful, let them realize how much ruin and disaster already has been wrought and how much human blood has been shed."

Addressing the heads of the nations, the Pope says: "Hasten, therefore, to enter into a council of peace. Grasp the right hand of friendship and receive a special reward from God for yourselves and your nations and earn the greatest praise from the brotherhood of man."

The encyclical ends by the Pope expressing the hope that the beginning of his pontificate will see the end of wars.

WILSON AWAITS PEACE MOVES.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—There is no present prospect of peace in Europe through the efforts of diplomacy. President Wilson himself set at rest today rumors that peace measures were in the making by revealing that no intimation had been conveyed to him officially from any quarter of a readiness on the part of one or more of the belligerents to talk peace.

The day's developments emphasized that Great Britain, France and Russia were grimly determined to make no peace until they had decisively broken Germany and Austria. Great Britain's position was explained in detail at London by Sir Edward Grey to Ambassador Page, who made a long report to President Wilson. The British Foreign Secretary declared England had not sought war, but since it was forced on her, she was irrevocably bent on crushing forever

THREE MILLION MEN ENGAGED IN THE STUPENDOUS CONFLICT.

Fourth Day of the Engagement Brings the Fear That It May Continue Two Weeks Before Decision Is Reached.

Invaders and the Defenders Are Holding Their Own With the Greatest Tenacity at the Center—Action Is Proceeding With the Utmost Violence Near Mailly and Vitry-le-Francois—Crown Prince Named to Hold Back Russians.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, Sept. 11, 12:10 a.m.—The fourth day of the gigantic battle to the east of Paris, which is expected to last two weeks and to decide the preliminary stage of the great war, finds the left wing of the allied armies vigorously pushing back the Germans' right wing, which made such rapid advance southward from the Belgian frontier.

The allies are said to have forced their adversaries back nearly forty miles northeastward since the beginning of the contest. The hard struggle between the enormous masses of troops extends from near Paris to as far as Nancy, close to the Lorraine border.

An action is proceeding with the utmost violence in the neighborhood of Mailly and Vitry-le-Francois, but it is very hot also in the center, where both sides are holding their positions with the greatest tenacity.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—While the latest official statements give few details of the great battle which is being waged in France and in which 3,000,000 men are engaged, it seems apparent that the German forces are still falling back, from the announcement that the allies have gained about thirty-seven miles of territory in their advance, an increase of twelve in the operations during the past twenty-four hours.

Both British and French troops have crossed the river Marne, the British capturing men and guns. The action of greatest severity is being fought between Mailly and Vitry-le-Francois.

In the engagement between British and Germans in Nyassaland, British Central Africa, the Germans, according to the British official press bureau, were driven back to the river Songwe, which is part of the frontier between the British and German protectorates.

Prince Joachim Albrecht of Prussia, son of the late Prince Frederick Albert, regent of Brunswick and a second cousin of the German Emperor, has been wounded in battle.

Both the German and allied armies in France are receiving reinforcements and the battle in France is likely to last some days yet.

The reports regarding the progress of the Russian and Austrian arms are meager, but a Petrograd dispatch says it is believed that the German Crown Prince has been appointed chief commander of the forces which are to oppose the Russian advance.

The British Prime Minister has called for more men to serve the country and when the government's plans are completed the British army will number 1,854,000 men.

Additional British casualties have been made public, covering the period up to September 7, and bringing the total for the campaign close to 19,000 killed, wounded and missing.

LONDON, Sept. 10, 11 p.m.—The crucial battle of the war in France has not yet reached any decisive result. Field Marshal Sir John French, commander of the British forces, reported today that the Germans had been driven back all along the line; that the British had crossed the River Marne; that the Germans had suffered severely, and that their men were supposed to be in a very exhausted condition.

Notwithstanding this report, the military experts do not rush to sweeping conclusions. The military writers in the London papers report that from the conservative terms of the French official statement it is too early to anticipate the result of a battle extending over a front of nearly a hundred miles. Three million men is the number estimated to be engaged actively or as reservists, and three great battles at least are in progress.

Probably the fiercest struggle is against the French center between Rheims and Verdun, while the British army is contesting the second hard

THIRTY-SEVEN MILE RETREAT OF INVADING GERMAN FORCE.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

PARIS, Sept. 10, 11:16 p.m.—"During the four-days' battle," says an official communication issued tonight, "the allies have pushed back the Germans sixty kilometers (approximately thirty-seven miles), and taken many prisoners and machine guns."

The following official communication was issued tonight:

"On the left wing the British and French troops have crossed the Marne between La Ferte-Sous-Jouarre, Charly and Chateau Thierry, pursuing the enemy, who is in retreat. During the course of the advance the British forces took a number of prisoners and captured railroads."

"During the four-days' battle the allied armies have in that section of the theater of operations gained more than sixty kilometers."

"Between Chateau Thierry and Vitry-le-Francois the Prussian guard has been thrown back."

"The action continues with great severity in the region between Camp de Mailly and Vitry-le-Francois."

"In the center and on the right wing there is no change in the situation."

"On the Ormain and in the Argonne district the two opposing forces are maintaining their positions. In the region of Nancy the enemy has made slight progress on the Chateau Salins road."

"On the other hand, we have gained ground in the forest of Champenoux."

"The losses have been considerable on both sides, but the morale and health of our troops remain excellent."

"There is no confirmation of the news published in the German newspapers of the fall of Meaux."

PARIS, Sept. 10, 6:48 a.m.—The left end of the curved German battle line, which on September 7, extended in the segment of a wide circle from Meaux to Vitry-le-Francois, about 100 miles to the east of Paris, was hit by the English triphammer yesterday and forced to double back for a distance of approximately twenty-five miles. This outcome of the fighting has aroused great satisfaction in Paris. It is argued here that it probably has resulted in an equal degree of anxiety for the German general staff concerning its line of communications. In spite of the continued soberness of the French official communications on the progress of these engagements, it is evident that the actions of yesterday and the day before constituted one of the hottest battles of the war.

DOMINATION OF POWERS ENDED BY THE SULTAN.

Ottoman Empire to Handle Its Own Affairs, Says Ambassador.

Residents Who Have Hitherto Enjoyed Extra Territorial Rights Dating Back Many Centuries Are Now Subject to Laws and Imperial Mandates—Suggestion That Germany Encouraged the Move.

[BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE]

WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Turkey formally notified the United States and the nations of the world today that she had abrogated the series of conventions, treaties and privileges, originating as early as the eleventh century, whereby foreigners in the Ottoman empire have been exempt from local jurisdiction in civil and criminal cases. Foreign subjects no longer will enjoy what is known as extra territorial rights, through which they have been tried by their own judges, diplomatic representatives or consuls.

This practice, abolished by Japan several years ago, was the subject of negotiation of new treaties, Turkey has removed by a stroke of the pen. Her purpose, it is declared, is to assert her independence and free herself from the domination of the great powers.

Upon the rights revoked has rested the legal status of American missionaries in Turkey, permitting them to maintain churches, hospitals and schools in religious freedom. Administration officials declined tonight to discuss the effect of the action on American missions.

RUSTEM BEY EXPLAINS.
"The removal of every kind of privileges enjoyed by the powers in excess of what the general principles of international law allow is the meaning of this step," A. Rustem Bey, Turkish Ambassador to the United States, said tonight. "This war is Turkey's opportunity."

No intimation was given by the ambassador as to whether the action foreshadowed war on Great Britain, without whose consent in the past no such radical action would have been attempted.

Among diplomats of the allied powers, however, the belief prevailed tonight that Turkey was appealing to the national sentiment of her people and was ready to seize upon any difficulties that may arise with Great Britain as a pretext to declare war.

The Turkish Ambassador made known the action of his government in a public announcement after it had been communicated to Secretary Bryan by him today as a formal note from the Ottoman empire.

TURKEY'S ANNOUNCEMENT.
"A cablegram to the Turkish Ambassador from the Ottoman Minister of Foreign Affairs states that by imperial mandate the Ottoman government has abrogated, from the first of October, next, the conventions known as the capitulations, the special privileges of Turkey in her relations with certain powers."

"All privileges and immunities accorded to these conventions or laws therefrom are equally repealed. Having thus freed itself from what was an intolerable obstacle to all progress in the empire, the imperial government has adopted as the basis of its relations with the powers the general principles of international law."

PRACTICE'S EARLY ORIGIN.
As early as 1006 the sovereigns of Constantinople granted charters of extra-territorial privileges called "capitulations," from the fact that they were divided into chapters. The Venetians were the first grantees, the right of trial by judges appointed in Venice and permanently residing in Constantinople.

Immediately after the Young Turks gained control of the government, the powers were sounded as to possible abrogation of the capitulations. The reply was unfavorable, it being held that the new regime should justify its ability to govern wisely and administer justice fairly before the powers would surrender the rights under which their citizens in Turkey were protected. Today's declaration, as far as is known, was not preceded by any such discussion with the powers.

The Turkish Ambassador described the privileges abrogated as relating to economics and the administration of justice.

ITS SIGNIFICANCE.
"In the economic field," he said, "the Turkish government can not fix or change the customs duties without the consent of the foreign powers. Nor can the Turkish government impose a professional tax on foreigners because the powers have not consented and a great disinclination has been made against the natives."

"In the administration of justice, the Ottoman government is not free to deal with criminals of foreign nations in the matter of certain trials without intervention of the representatives of the foreign Ambassador or minister to which the culprit owed allegiance. In certain cases foreigners can not be imprisoned in the native prisons, but in those of the Consulates."

These restrictions weigh heavily on the Ottoman state both materially and morally; materially, by depriving it of the financial resources, which other countries are free to create according to their discretion. In that way Turkey has been prevented from introducing those reforms which it has been accused of delaying precisely by those powers, who owing to the enjoyment of those privileges, stood in the way of progressive action on the part of the government. Moreover, it has deprived Turkey of that confidence, which full independence gives to a state. Deprived of that independence, the moral fibre of the nation relaxed."

DIPLOMATS INTERESTED.
In diplomatic circles the announcement of Turkey's attitude attracted the widest attention. The allies are known to expect at any moment a declaration of war by Turkey in behalf of Germany. Comment was heard among diplomats of the allied powers as to possible deliberations between the German Foreign Office and the Porte before the decision to abrogate the treaties was reached by Turkey. There was a suggestion also that Germany had encouraged the move.

So far as diplomats of the allies would venture an opinion, the prediction was made that Great Britain, France and Russia probably would not make any representations on the subject to Turkey at this time, leaving it until the close of the war.

EQUIPMENT AND MUNITIONS FOR PHILIPPINE TROOPS.

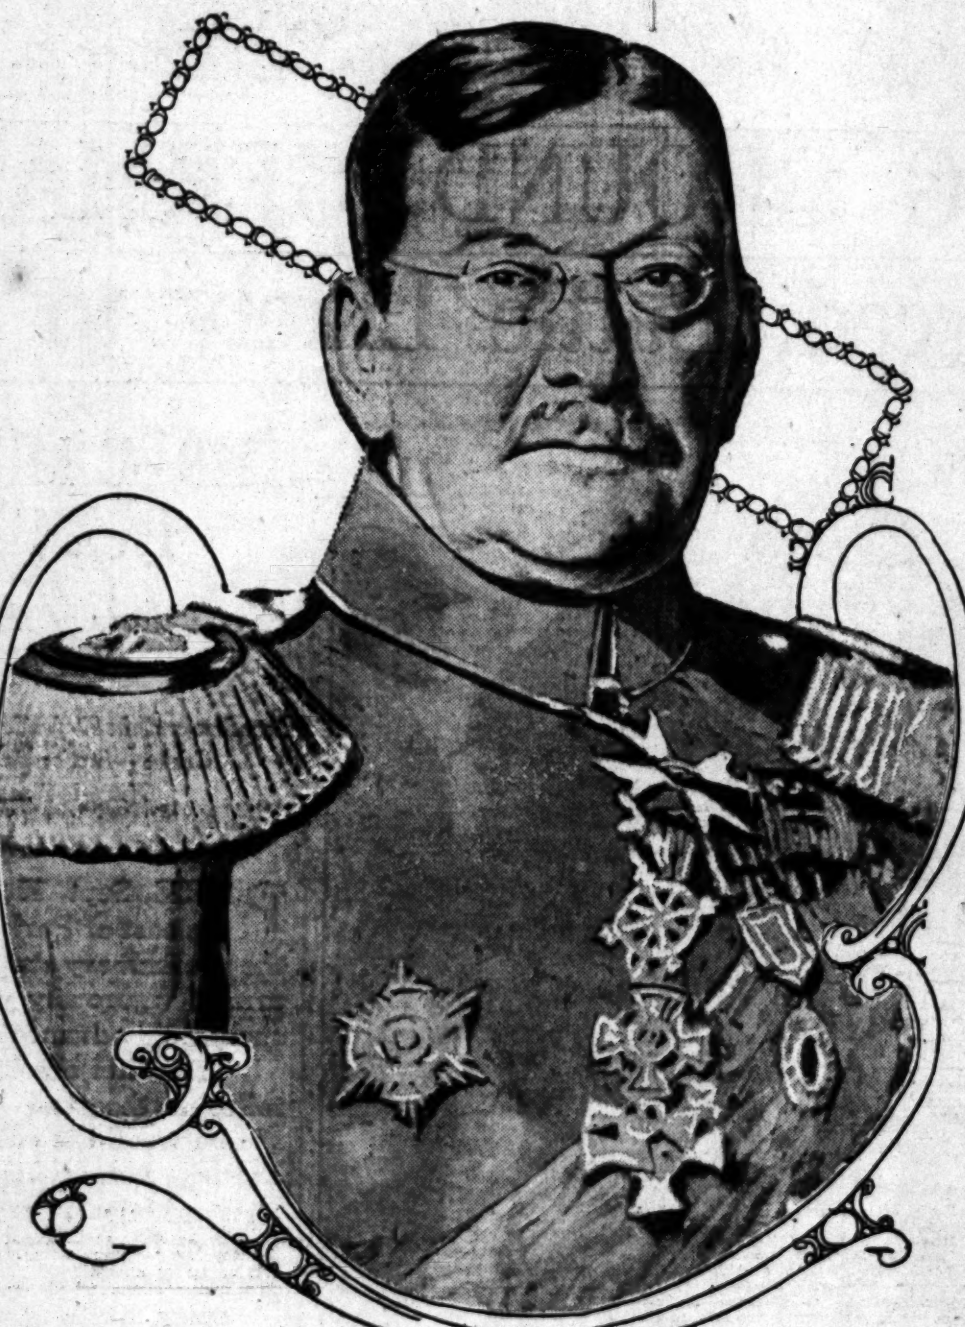

[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]
SAN FRANCISCO BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 10.—The United States army transport Sherman will make a special trip to Hawaii and the Philippines on September 25, ostensibly to take military passengers and recruits that the transport sailing September 5 was unable to handle because it had a capacity cargo. It is understood, however, that the special trip has a little additional meaning, and that the ship will carry certain equipment and munitions of war necessary for the troops in the islands. It always has been the policy of the War Department to quietly furnish the troops in the islands with a large amount of field equipment at any critical time, and in view of the present trouble abroad the department may believe it is the best policy to keep the foreign regiments pretty well supplied with war munitions. There also is some unverified talk that the troops in China will be augmented.

JAPAN DELAYED AT TSING-TAO.
[BY PACIFIC CABLE.]
PEKING, Sept. 10.—The elements have delayed unexpectedly the Japanese advance on Tsing-tao. Floods cover the surrounding country and are spreading inland beyond Wei Hsien. The waters continue to rise and it is said it may be months before the Japanese can begin their investment of the stronghold, which now can be reached only by boat.

JAPAN INCLUDED IN ALLIES' PACT.
[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]
PETROGRAD, Sept. 9 (via London, Sept. 10).—A dispatch from Tokyo states that Japan has joined the agreement of the allies not to conclude peace without the consent of the allied nations.

Japan has informed Russia, the dispatch says, that she will not make peace with Germany until the war in Europe is ended, even if Japan occupied Kiaochow before then.

German Military Governor of Belgium.

Field Marshal Von der Goltz, Water Fort.

ANTWERP APPROACHES FLOODED TO PREVENT GERMAN ADVANCE.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Sept. 10.—An official dispatch issued in Berlin and received here this evening by the Marconi Wireless Telegraph Company says:

"In an engagement at Oorddegem, on the railway between Antwerp and Ghent, the Belgian troops withdrew."

"The country south of Antwerp has been flooded by the Belgians to prevent the Germans marching into the town. The area covered by the flood is seventy square miles. The water varies in depth at different places from a few inches to several feet."

A Reuter dispatch from Ostend says that according to soldiers who have arrived there it would appear that an engagement is in progress between the Belgians and the Germans, who are withdrawing towards France.

An Ostend dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company says:

"According to information from a reliable source the Belgian army at Antwerp has assumed a triumphant offensive movement, driving the Germans back to the environs of Louvain."

BURGOMASTER OF GHENT.
Telegraphing from Ghent, Reuter's correspondent says:

"The shop windows in the city display placards inscribed 'Long live our burgomaster' in recognition of the burgomaster's service in saving the city from a German attack."

"It now appears that the action of the burgomaster in entering into negotiations with the Germans and consenting to grant their requisitions for stores at first was opposed by the military authorities, and only when the Germans were within a few hours of the city did Gen. Clocot give orders to the Belgian troops that the city should not be defended."

"Before leaving Ghent the Germans took possession of all the stores that had been requisitioned."

GERMANS SAVE PICTURES.
Official Berlin dispatches received here by Marconi wireless say:

"While Louvain was burning, German officers carried pictures from the Cathedral, the Hotel-De Ville for their protection."

"Emperor William and Prince Leopold of Lippe have exchanged cordial and sympathetic telegrams on the occasion of the heroic death of Prince Herbert of Lippe, who is the third member of the House of Lippe to fall in this war."

"According to London papers, fighting has been proceeding since September 7 east of Paris on a line between Autell, Meaux and Vitry-le-Francois. Early French reports of a victory have since proved to be exaggerated for the allies do not appear to be able to maintain the former success of their offensive movement. No news of this battle has been received from the German side."

Dispatches from Berlin say that the incorporation of Belgium as a part of the German empire already is being treated as an accomplished fact by a large part of the Berlin populace. Officials state that it will at least be included in the Zollverein, the German customs union, to which

BRITISH FIELD MARSHAL REPORTS ON THE OPERATIONS IN FRANCE.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Sept. 10, 2:30 a.m.—The text of the report of Field Marshal Sir John French, in command of the British forces in France, covering the British operations since they landed in France, was made public today.

The report is addressed to Earl Kitchener, the Secretary of War, and its publication indicates that the government is responding to the public demand for fuller information on the progress of the operations, so far as the British forces are concerned in France.

The report is published in the London Gazette, the official organ. It follows:

"The transportation of the troops from England by rail and sea was effected in the best order and without a check. Concentration was practically completed on the evening of August 21 and I was able to make dispositions to move the force to positions considered most favorable from which to commence the operations which Gen. Joffre expects me to undertake. The line extended along the line of the canal from Conde on the west through Mons and Binche on the east. During August 22 and 23 the advance squadrons did some excellent work, some of them penetrating as far as Soignies (a town of Belgium, ten miles northeast of Mons) and several encounters took place in which our troops showed great advantage."

"On Sunday, the 23rd, reports began to come in to the effect that the enemy was commencing an attack on the Mons line apparently in some strength, but that the right of the position from Mons was being particularly difficult to hold because standing crops and buildings made the lighting of trenches difficult and limited the fire in my important localities. It nevertheless afforded a few good artillery positions."

"When news of the retirement of the French and the heavy German reinforcements threatening on my front reached the British command, I confirmed it by aeroplane reconnaissance, and as a result of this I determined to effect a retirement to the Maubeuge position at daybreak on the 24th."

"A certain amount of fighting continued along the whole line throughout the night and at daybreak on the 24th the second division, from the neighborhood of Hamirines, made a powerful demonstration as if to retake Binche. This was supported by the artillery of both the first and the second divisions, while the first division took up a supporting position in the neighborhood of Peissant. Under cover of this demonstration the second

Battle of Belgrade Renewed With Increased Fury and Serbian Batteries Reply to Austrian Fire—Fourth of Archduke Frederick's Command Reported Lost in the Recent Galician Campaign.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Sept. 11, 3:20 a.m.—A dispatch from the Post from Copenhagen states that reports have been received there from Stettin that the Russians are bombarding Koenigsberg, strong German fortress in East Prussia, and part of the city is in flames.

GENEVA, Sept. 10.—A party of Swiss from Vienna confirm of previous reports that thousands of laborers are working on defenses around the Austrian capital. They declared advance guards of the Russian army already are at the summit of the passes through the Carpathian Mountains and that the Austrians are retreating.

LONDON, Sept. 10.—The battle of Belgrade has been renewed with increased fury, according to a Nish dispatch to the Eastern Telegraph Company. Considerable damage has been done. Serbian batteries are replying to the Austrian fire.

REPORT EVACUATION OF CRACOW.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

LONDON, Sept. 10.—A dispatch to the Reuter Telegram Company from Petrograd says that the Austrians have begun evacuating Cracow.

Others urged that it was useless to suffer the bombardment of Cracow, when there was no chance for Austrian success.

Six vodka shops in Petrograd which were closed following the declaration of war have been converted into centers for the assistance of families of reservists.

Cracow has been described as the main rallying point for the Austrian and German forces in Galicia. It is the old capital of the kingdom of Poland. It is a city of about 100,000 population and is about 100 miles west of Lemberg. Between Cracow and Lemberg is the very strong strategic position of Przemysl, the possession of the Austrians.

A dispatch to the Reuter Telegram Company from Petrograd says that "consternation prevails at Cracow. The evacuation of the town has begun. The authorities are trying to induce the members of the town club to remain and assist in the defense of the place. Many, however, have resigned their membership because of sympathy with Russia."

GALICIANS ARE REPORTED CONFIDENT.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

AMSTERDAM, Sept. 10 (via London).—According to dispatches received here from Vienna, the people of the Austrian capital have now been informed that the Russian invasion of East Galicia was all part of the strategic campaign of the Austrian Department of War. It was intended, the people of Vienna have been told, to induce the Russians to invade Galicia and to remain confident.

RUSSIANS CLAIM MANY PRISONERS.
[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]
PETROGRAD, Sept. 10.—The following references to the progress of the Russian campaign in Galicia were made public today through official channels:

"The continued offensive movements of the Russian troops make it impossible to establish definitely the quantity of trophies taken from the enemy."

"The Russian army, having occupied the fortified position of the Austrians at Nicolaieff, south of Lemberg, in Galicia, after incessant fighting which lasted two days, under the command of General Samarin, has been sent into the region between Rawa-Ruska (thirty-two miles from Lemberg) and the Dniester River."

"It has been established that man soldiers have been captured and Russian dragons in the region of Veluch."

MANY WOUNDED ARRIVE IN VIENNA.

[BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.]

ROME (via London), Sept. 10.—The Tribune's Vienna correspondent states that 6000 wounded arrived in Vienna on Tuesday, 9000 on Monday and 9000 on last Sunday.

Third of these are German, the rest and Prague also report the arrival of large numbers of wounded.

NIGHT WIRE.] WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Industrial and financial problems in Latin America due to the war in Europe, were outlined today to representatives of United States banking and commercial interests who immediately set on foot a relief movement. The members of the diplomatic and consular corps of the distressed countries had set forth their needs, and the conference, organized under auspices of the Departments of State and Commerce, authorized Secretary Redfield to make recommendations to the President upon concrete recommendations and decide whether another general conference will be necessary. It was urged that the European war must be bound for the products of the South American countries, the conference was told, and a special relief movement. The conference would produce revenues for the war and development purposes. The transatlantic trade in the South American continent was urged as an alternative for immediate action. ready evidence among the military experts here.
A German official wireless dispatch tonight says that no report has been made public in Berlin of the events in France for the past three days.
From Holland comes the news that 10,000 German reinforcements are marching south. These troops may have an effect upon the tide of battle, but there is reason to believe the allied armies are also receiving a counterbalancing accession of strength.
That the German navy has not been without enterprise is revealed in the Admiralty announcement today that the British cruiser Pathfinder was destroyed by a German submarine, not a mine, as was at first supposed. The German craft which ventured so far from its base is given credit for its enterprise.
Another mine disaster, the victim of which was the tramp steamer Atlanta, has been added to the list, and the advisability of closing the North Sea to merchant shipping is being discussed.
Both England and Germany would suffer from strangulation of their trade, England losing food supplies from Scandinavian countries, while Holland promised to be Germany's principal avenue of commerce with the outer world.
That the Germans are concentrating all their strength in the western field of warfare against the main French front appears to be confirmed by reports which have arrived through Holland. Most of the troops left in Belgium are said to be men past the prime of life, of the Landsturm, while 10,000 or 40,000 naval reserves are marching in to replace the depleted garrisons.
An Ostend message says the Belgian army at Antwerp has taken the aggressive and driven the Germans back to the environs of Louvain. Another message says the Belgians have defeated a German garrison composed of Landsturm at Aerschot, a short distance from Louvain.
The Commons voted to day unanimously for a half million more recruits. The country was surprised by the announcement that 450,000 men already had been enlisted since the beginning of the war.
When the government's plans are completed the British army for the continent and for home service will consist, roughly, of the following: Regular army, 1,200,000; territorials, 300,000; reserves, 214,000; Indian contingent, 70,000; Canadian and other second contingents, 40,000; Australians, 20,000, and New Zealand, 10,000—making a total of 1,854,000 men.
This tremendous enrollment for a country which normally has only a small professional army, has thrown into relief the government's views regarding the duration of the war, or at least, upon its determination to meet all the needs of the war.
A casualty list published tonight brings the army's losses to nearly 15,000 men exclusive of the past three days' fighting. Yet this big toll from the small army seems in nowise to depress the country.
The news from the eastern theater of war today was very scant. The German and Austrian reports minimize the importance of the occupation of Lemberg. A Vienna dispatch says the occupation of the city was part of a strategic campaign to draw the Russian army into Galicia. Petrograd reports claim that Archduke Frederick's army lost 15,000 men, that the evacuation of Cracow has commenced, and that the fall of both Cracow and Przemyśl is imminent.
The Russian army has accomplished a daring, although unproductive, attempt to draw the German battle fleet into action. A great array of squadrons and flotillas made a sweep into the North Sea for two days, penetrating to the Bight of Heligoland, but failed to discover any German craft.
System.
GERMANS RUSH RESERVES TO FILL GAPS IN RANKS.
BY AN ASSOCIATE EDITOR OF THE ARMY AND NAVY JOURNAL.
(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
NEW YORK BUREAU OF THE TIMES, Sept. 10.—The continual pounding of the Germans on the French line between Montmirail and Vitry shows the importance that they give to this effort in their general plan of operation. The reported withdrawal from Luneville may prove to be part of the general movement of troops by which they are seeking to gain their object by gathering in every detachment possible in order to increase their chances of success at the vital point.
The rushing of reserves to the front is part of their military system. In addition to the complete divisions formed from the older men of the reserves, the Germans provide a supply of trained men to replace casualties in the troops on the firing line.
The importance of this struggle at Vitry is so great for the Germans that they must necessarily take every precaution to strengthen their attacking columns. A delay is necessary to allow the overcrowded infantry to recover from their forced marches and to let the reserves for the various companies reach their destinations.
The garrisons and detachments from a distance will require a few days to reach the line of battle. Especially will the force that has just captured Maubeuge require time to add its strength to the armies at the front. There is every reason to believe that the Germans will not abandon this effort against the French line until they have brought to the battle all reserves and detachments within reach.
ENVELOPING MOVE.
Every day of delay in pushing the above move is increasing the exposure of the German line to an enveloping move by the allied armies approaching from the west. This latter force is not only pushing closely behind the German first army, but seems to be extending farther and farther to the north, where they threaten the routes by which the first three German armies advanced and by which they would naturally receive their supplies.
The activity shown by the Belgian garrison of Antwerp shows a concert of action between the detached portions of the allied forces. The Germans must, either hold back from the battle in France sufficient troops to cover this Belgian sortie or else run the risk of seeing their lines of communication attacked and the supply of their armies hampered. While division of forces are inherently less effective than equal numbers acting as a unit this defect can be partly remedied by complete co-ordination of their activities.
The armies of the opposing nations in the eastern theater of operations have now been strengthened until they follow a continuous front occupied in strength for 600 miles from

TAX ON FREIGHT, BEER AND WINE.
Democrats Pave Way to Make Up Revenue Deficit.
Hundred Millions Annually Sum to Be Realized.
Rivers and Harbors Measure May Be Cut in Two.
(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—In agreeing today on a war revenue measure which will tax freight transportation and increase revenue taxes on beer and domestic wines, Democrats of the Ways and Means Committee paved the way for relieving the government financial stringency due to the European war. Administration leaders in both houses predicted the bill as framed would be passed without prolonged discussion. Chairman Underwood of the committee said the measure had the approval of the President and his advisers.
The bill contemplates an annual revenue estimated at $107,000,000. The tax on beer will be increased from $1 to $1.50 a barrel; wines will be taxed an additional 20 cents a gallon and a 3 per cent. tax on freight transportation bills, including railroad, steamship and express freight, will be made transportation companies to collect the tax for the government and receive as compensation 1 per cent. of the amount of revenue collected from the tax.
As an additional relief of war conditions, Senate leaders announced today the determination to prune the rivers and harbors appropriation bill from $52,000,000 to approximately $30,000,000. An effort will be made to include in this cut some of the new projects, assembled as extravaganzas by opposing Senators, thus ending the Republican filibuster against the bill. Democratic leaders are conferring with the Republicans on the readjustment of the bill.
The war revenue bill will be introduced in the House tomorrow and debate started early next week.
NET REVENUES.
Chairman Underwood said he believed the bill would be approved by the President and the Democrats in Congress. It is estimated that the net revenue from the freight tax will be $65,000,000; from beer $22,000,000, and from domestic wine $9,000,000. The latter will be assessed against those wines "hereafter manufactured and sold, or hereafter removed for sale."
"As an illustration of the operation of the freight tax," said Mr. Underwood, "a man who does a business aggregating $10,000 in freight bills would pay a revenue tax of $300. A freight bill of that size is indicative of an actual business of a million or a million and a half dollars. A $300 tax spread over that amount of business would be infinitesimal and could have little or almost no effect on retail prices."
Men are braver than women, until a pain hits them.
Fall Hats

No Matter What Else— Now Your Fall Hat
W HETHER you prefer daffodils to roses, know more about Mumble-de-peg than baseball, or believe in the late "Congressional" table fork with a safety razor attachment, you simply must get 'neath a new Fall hat.
Better abandon postponement today and shake an Autumnal "crown" from our tree of selections.
—John B. Stetsons, Hilltops, C. & K. in soft stuffs.
No more should a man wear the same hat every day than a same cravat. Three-change is proper—a stiff hat one of them.
Many softies have contrary bands—crowns rather high—brims narrower. Stiff hats, often slightly taper crowns, with brims less flat than formerly.
To be smart, yet reserved, is the heading for Fall 1914.

Official.
FIRST GERMAN ADMISSION OF SUCCESS OF ALLIES.
(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)
LONDON, Sept. 11.—The first official admission on the German side of success by the allies, says a Central News dispatch from Amsterdam, "appears in official communications issued in Berlin this afternoon. Gen. Von Stein announces that the German army, which had advanced across the Marne to the east of Paris, was heavily attacked by the enemy between Paris, Meaux and Montmirail.
"The fighting lasted two days. The German army had checked the enemy and had again itself advanced but stronger hostile columns came to the assistance of the allies and the enemy won the battle, compelling the German troops to retire. Fifty guns were captured by the allies and some thousands of men made prisoners."
"To the west of Verdun fighting continues. The situation in Lorraine and the Vosges is unchanged. The battle in Eastern Prussia has been resumed."
said the feeling was general among officials that the present was not the time to press for peace with prospects of success.
BRYAN'S OBSERVATION.
"We haven't gotten to the point," said Secretary Bryan today in response to a question, "where we can take up the subject of mediation."
"Everyone wants peace," remarked Ambassador Jusserand of France to a friend as he was leaving the State Department today, but with a gesture of resignation he added: "It is not so easy."
The Ambassador said that as a result of the protest of Emperor William he had been authorized by his government to inform President Wilson that no bullet whatsoever not approved by The Hague conference either have been used by the soldiers or will be used in spite of any provocation.
AGREE TO TREATIES.
In the midst of the diplomatic chaos in Europe, Great Britain, France, Spain and China, it became known today, have agreed with the United States on the text of treaties to be signed in a few days. They provide for the investigation by a commission for a period of one year of more of all international disputes that may arise between these countries and the United States. One effect of the signing of the treaties would be to prevent this country from being suddenly drawn into the European war over neutrality questions or other unexpected difficulties.
Nineteen such treaties have been signed and ratified by the Senate, Secretary Bryan, who has personally negotiated them all, hopes to have thirty on record by Christmas, cementing the friendship of the United States with the world and making most remote the possibility of war between the United States and any nation.
There was some discussion today as to whether the celebration of the one hundredth anniversary of the signing of the treaty of Ghent would be held as planned. Secretary Bryan is chairman of an honorary committee, and England and Belgium are represented here by committees which had been planning an elaborate celebration. His decision has been reached on the subject so far as known.

No Matter What Else— Now Your Fall Hat
W HETHER you prefer daffodils to roses, know more about Mumble-de-peg than baseball, or believe in the late "Congressional" table fork with a safety razor attachment, you simply must get 'neath a new Fall hat.
Better abandon postponement today and shake an Autumnal "crown" from our tree of selections.
—John B. Stetsons, Hilltops, C. & K. in soft stuffs.
No more should a man wear the same hat every day than a same cravat. Three-change is proper—a stiff hat one of them.
Many softies have contrary bands—crowns rather high—brims narrower. Stiff hats, often slightly taper crowns, with brims less flat than formerly.
To be smart, yet reserved, is the heading for Fall 1914.
To Salesman:—
I WANT every employee of the Store with a Conscience to always remember that our institution is for the service and benefit of the community.
"There is no service too small nor too large to bestow on our customers."
"Service with courteous kindness—service that assists truly."
"After all, to make a man happy and satisfied is the real secret of a successful business."

HEADACHE AND DIZZINESS

Headache is never a disease. It is always a symptom. Applications, powders and tablets that drug the headache into quiescence are treating the symptoms, not the disease, and are useless, proceeding and often harmful. When headache is associated with some dizziness it is usually the result of nervous exhaustion and will continue as long as the person who is overworked allows the debility to continue. It rapidly disappears when rest and the proper tonic is taken.

Nervous exhaustion, the cause of such headaches and dizziness, results from strain on the nerves with which the rebuilding work of the blood is unable to keep pace. The best tonic for such a condition is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills. These pills build up the blood and strengthen the nerves. With this treatment, unless the overwork, worry, or whatever has caused the nervous breakdown, is persistent, the headache, dizziness, nervousness and irritability that characterize neurasthenia rapidly disappear.

The Dr. Williams' Medicine Company, Schenectady, N. Y., will send free on request a helpful little book on the home treatment of nervous disorders. Dr. Williams' Pink Pills are obtainable at any drug store.

ARTILLERY SKIRMISHES.

A dispatch to the Central News from Antwerp, Sept. 10.—Reports from Putten in the Netherlands, near the Belgian border, state that skirmishes in which the artillery is engaged have occurred northeast of Antwerp. Many houses near Putten were demolished by the Belgians to provide an unobstructed field for the artillery.

"The inefficiency of the forts at Antwerp through the failure of the Krupp to carry out their contract, has been made good and Antwerp is now considered nearly impregnable."

It is understood that only 30,000 German troops are between Antwerp and Brussels, mainly from the land-storming corps.

FRESH GERMAN FORCES.

A dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph Company from Ghent says: "It is estimated that 30,000 to 40,000 German soldiers have arrived during the past two days at Brussels. This indicates that the German reserve is completely mobilized."

BIG ENGAGEMENT CLOSE TO LOUVAIN.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)
ROTTERDAM, Sept. 10 (via London).—A dispatch to the Courant, dated Breda, Holland, reports that a heavy engagement took place Wednesday at Aerschot, Belgium, nine miles northeast of Louvain, when the Belgians attacked the garrison there.

As a result of the fighting the Germans evacuated the town, and the Belgians hoisted their colors and liberated twenty-six priests found in a church.

SAYS DESTRUCTION IS EXAGGERATED.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—The German Embassy today received the following wireless from Berlin: "Herr Helfferich, director of the Deutsche Bank, after touring in Belgium, states:

"News of destruction of Belgian towns is exaggerated. Factories and tramways, industrial centers, Charleroi quite intact; Louvain and Dinant only partly destroyed."

"After the surrender of Ghent, a German officer was indignantly killed and another wounded. The Russian cavalry burned down the town of destruction, although there was no fighting in that district, the splendid castle of Louvain, the Prussian parliamentarian."

WARSHIP NOTICED OFF GOLDEN GATE.

(BY A. P. DAY WIRE)

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Capt. Armistead Rust of the steamship Red Cross announced today he had succeeded in obtaining a crew composed entirely of Americans and that the ship would sail for Europe Monday or Tuesday.

Capt. Rust said the necessity of making the new crew familiar with the ship and the conditions that prevented sailing tomorrow.

Steam Trawler in London Reports Derelict Which It Picked Up Had Explosive Attached.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)
LONDON, Sept. 10.—The master of the Grimby steam trawler Agata reports that while fishing in the North Sea he sighted a ship's boat afloat and fearing that some disaster had occurred, went toward it, put a boat and found the derelict to be a life boat equipped with sails, mast and high. The Agata tried to tow the derelict home but immediately an explosion occurred, luckily too far distant to harm the trawler.

A careful examination revealed that a mine was attached to the lifeboat by ropes and wires and calculated to explode on contact with the trawler. The derelict was towed to the lifeboat and exploded.

BEELIAN ENVOYS REACH AMERICA.

Bear Autograph Letter from King to President.
Are to Complain of Alleged German Atrocities.
Commission Is Headed by Minister of Justice.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE)
NEW YORK, Sept. 10.—Bringing many Americans and the King of Belgium's commission which will place before President Wilson accounts of alleged German atrocities in Belgium and of Germany's violation of Belgium's neutrality, the White Star line steamer Celtic arrived at Quakerstown tonight from Liverpool and Queenstown. Tomorrow morning she will dock her passengers, of whom there are 304 in the first and 606 in the second cabin, and 991 in the steerage.

Of these 1901 passengers there were 254 Americans in the first cabin, 551 in the second, and 641 in the steerage. Some of these passengers corroborated reports that large numbers of Russian troops had been passing through England on their way to aid the allied forces in continental Europe.

The Belgian commission, in a statement given out tonight at Quakerstown, explained that pending its visit to Washington it did not feel free to make full response "to the interest manifested by the press and the public in the statement."

"The special mission sent by His Majesty, the King of Belgium, to the President of the United States, has arrived from Belgium on the Celtic. It is composed of M. Henry Carton de Wiart, Minister of Justice in the Belgian Cabinet, and M. Adolphe Saelens, Minister of State, and Count Louis de Sadeleur, one of the leaders of the Socialist party, the King of the Belgians has emphasized his intention of giving this mission a thorough national character. The mission consists of President Wilson an autograph letter of His Majesty, which will be presented to the President at his convenience.

"Pending their reception by the President the members of the mission will not feel at liberty to respond as fully as they wish to the interest manifested by the press and the public. Their diplomatic character obliges them, for reasons of the United States, to observe this discretion.

"The members of the mission are glad to reach the land of the great American commonwealth. This nation, neutral in the great war which Europe is fighting, is for them particularly dear to the existing conditions in Belgium, and the nation's heroic struggle for its independence is a source of inspiration to the mission. Before the members of the mission left Antwerp, he told them personally how much he liked to recall the happy days of his youth, and how much he had always admired the expansion of the American nation and all the branches of human activity."

LOSS OF LIFE SLIGHT, ONLY TWO PER CENT.

(BY ATLANTIC CABLE AND A. P.)
LONDON, Sept. 10.—The Bordeaux correspondent of the Exchange Telegraph Company states that, according to a member of the Health Department in the Ministry of War, the present European war was not resulting in a very heavy loss of life.

"Of every hundred men participating, only two are killed," this official said. "Our wounded are numerous, but their injuries are generally slight, the most men being hurt in the arms or legs and the wounds almost invariably heal rapidly. Many of those wounded already have returned to the front. However, our low mortality rate may be attributed in part to the poor aim of the Germans."

VERY PLEASING
TO UNCLE JOE.Former Speaker Rejoices Over His "Come Back."Taft's Campaign Manager Is Again a Nominee.Illinois Results Prophetic of Republican Victory.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—Joseph C. Cannon, former Speaker of the House of Representatives, has "come back" and was nominated in the Danville district as the Republican candidate for Congress and William B. McKinley, Taft's campaign manager, who was defeated for Congress two years ago, is again a Republican nominee for Congress.

"The result on the primary election is very pleasing to me," said Mr. Cannon today. "But I dislike to crow about it. The result is very encouraging, but it will become me to add to the disappointment of my opponent by bragging about the returns. Dr. Coolidge is a gentleman. He was simply mistaken concerning the sentiment of the voters of the Eighteenth Congressional District. He made a gallant fight and an honorable one."

A. J. Sabath, an important cog in the H. H. Democratic machine, is also renominated, according to early returns.

MANY MORE OF THEM.
Other "come backs" besides "Uncle Joe" Cannon and former Congressman McKinley in Chicago and downstate districts are W. V. Wilson, Republican, in the Third District; George Edmund Foss, Republican, in the Tenth District; Charles Fuller, Republican in the Twelfth District, and John A. Sterling, Republican in the Seventeenth.

In addition, former Congressman Rodenberg's friends in the Twenty-second district declare the returns will show him in the "come back" class.

McDERMOTT WINS.
Complete returns late tonight show that former Congressman James T. McDermott won his fight for the Democratic nomination for Congress in the Fourth District, which embraces the stock yards. McDermott recently resigned from the House in the face of an unfavorable report of an investigating committee. He called his campaign for renomination a "vindication" campaign.

Congressman James McAndrews in the Sixth District and Congressman Frank Buchanan in the Seventh District were renominated by the Democrats by a large plurality.

Roger C. Sullivan's plurality over Congressman Lawrence C. Springer in the Democratic nomination for United States Senator will stand at about $9,000, estimated on available returns at midnight.

Lawrence T. Sherman's plurality over William E. Mason will be better than $9,000 by the same estimate.

was made in the annual address of the Rev. M. C. Morris, president of the national Baptist convention, at the opening session of the organization here yesterday.

"The suffrage movement has its foundation in the fact that taxation without representation is unjust and no class or race is better prepared by experience to sympathize with such a movement than the colored people," declared Mr. Morris.

"The capital of our nation," he said, "is a hotbed of race hatred and there it will continue to spread to all sections of the country until the negro men shall be elected to Congress and speak for themselves."

"As Christian workers," the speaker added, "we are for peace and we pray for the time when all nations shall study war no more and yet, as true Americans, in the face of all discriminations, we stand ready to defend the flag of our country against any foreign foe."

More than 1000 delegates from nearly every State in the Union are in attendance upon the convention.

KEESLING AND RALSTON SHOW THEIR LOYALTY.

Candidate Spends a Busy Day at San Francisco in Conference with Party Leaders—Organization of the Coming Sacramento Convention Is Discussed at Length.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10.—Arriving in San Francisco from Los Angeles this morning, Capt. John D. Fredericks passed one of the busiest days since he began his campaign for Governor. From the time he reached here until late tonight he was engaged in conference with party leaders from various sections of the State. All day long his rooms at the Palace Hotel were filled with prominent Republicans.

Among the first to call on him were Francis V. Keesling and William C. Ralston, who, with Charles M. Bell, have been the champions of the Republican gubernatorial nomination. Both Keesling and Ralston wired him their congratulations after the primary, but neither had had an opportunity personally to assure him of their loyal support in the pre-November battle. Capt. Fredericks appeared highly pleased after his visitors had departed.

Gustav Brenner, chairman of the Republican State Central Committee, was an early arrival, as were Congressman Joseph R. Knowland, Republican nominee for United States Senator; W. D. Griffiths, chairman of the Republican County Central Committee of Napa; Dr. J. A. McKee, State Senator from Sacramento and former Gov. James N. Gillett. Capt. Fredericks, with W. R. Bacon, his northern manager, discussed important matters with them. During the day Secretary of State Francis C. Jordan, Gen. W. H. H. Hart, Col. John C. Gentry, chairman of the local Republican County Committee; Ralph L. Hathorn, one of Keesling's managers during the primary campaign; Judge Fred S. Sorensen of Alameda, Congressman Knowland's manager; Henry M. Owens, Ralph H. Wright of Martinez, delegate to the Republican convention from the Ninth Senatorial District, and scores of others dropped in.

Plans for the coming campaign and for the convention to be held in Sacramento next Tuesday, were gone over. Discussion of the organization of the convention, the election of a new State Central Committee, the choice of a presiding officer and a dozen and one equally vital subjects were entered into at length.

It devolved upon Capt. Fredericks, as his party's standard bearer, to choose the chairman of the State convention and to direct in great measure, the proceedings of that body.

CONSTRUCTION WORK.
In discussing his plans, Capt. Fredericks said:

"We are building a new Republican party in California, a party destined to accomplish a great deal of good work. There will be a new alignment of forces, the personnel will be largely new and under different leadership, but time honored and proven Republican principles will prevail."

"I do not mean that the new leadership necessarily will come from men who have been politically unknown in the past, but it will come from men who are a step with the times."

"Our next State Central Committee will be made up of just such men and women, all imbued with the same desire to work for the success of the party and victory in November, and we intend to put California back in the Republican ranks where she belongs."

Capt. Fredericks will leave here Sunday for the Republican convention in Sacramento. From Sacramento he will go direct to San Diego to open his State-wide campaign for election. He will devote a week to more to southern counties and then work north as far as Treka. He will make a complete tour of the State.

KENT THE MAIN "ANGEL."
HENRY'S EXPENSES.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
WASHINGTON, Sept. 10.—Francis J. Henry, Progressive nominee for United States Senator from California, filed with the Secretary of the Senate today his statement of campaign expenses, showing contributions of $7098, of which $5000 came from Congressman William Kent of California and $2098 from Charles R. Crane of Chicago. Mr. Henry's expenses in the primary campaign, however, were only $1853.85, according to the statement, $1210 of which was paid to a publicity agent.

NEW HAVEN (Conn.) Sept. 10.—Judge Marcus H. Holcomb of Southington was nominated for Governor at the Republican State convention here today. United States Senator Frank B. Brandage was renominated unanimously.

RABBI SCORES
SCHOOL VERSE.Objects to Scriptural Text in California Readers.St. Luke, Bryant and Phillips Brooks Are Condemned.Los Angeles Clergyman Has Taken the Initiative.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
SACRAMENTO, Sept. 10.—Dad St. Luke, the apostle, William Cullen Bryant, great American poet, and author of "Thanatopsis," and Phillips Brooks, famed Episcopal clergyman and author, write verse intended to convey improper thoughts to the minds of the young, or to reflect on any creed or people?

Rabbi S. Hecht of the First British congregation of Los Angeles intimates that they did, and has demanded of State Superintendent of Public Instruction Hyatt that certain verse be eliminated from the third and fourth readers now in use throughout the State of California.

"I make earnest protest against the admission of these verses into our State textbooks as flagrant violations of the fundamental laws governing our schools. I hope it is an oversight, and that no further action will be necessary to gain relief," is the ultimatum of Hecht.

Hyatt replied that contracts had been let for the publication of those books for four and eight years, and that he had no power in the premises. Hecht objected to the Yuletide poem in the Third Reader on page 107, entitled "Christmas Everywhere," by Phillips Brooks. The lines of one stanza read: "For the Christ child who comes, is the master of all; no voice to greet him, no word to greet him." St. Luke's Christmas song, on page 108 of the same book, is condemned. Two lines read: "A glad and wonderful song rang through the heavens; it was 'glory to God on high; peace on earth, good will toward men.'"

"The Song of the Sower," by William Cullen Bryant, one of the world's classics, is in the Fourth Reader, at pages 101 and 102. One stanza reads: "Strew silently the fruitful seed, as softly o'er the earth you tread; for hands that delicately knead the consecrated bread."

"Easter Song," by Mary A. Lathbury, and "The Lamb," by William Blake, are also under the ban of the rabbi.

SWEDISH COLONIST SUES.
Resident at Arboga Declares Land
Sold Him Was Worthless and Demands Damages.

(BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
MARTINSVILLE (Cal.) Sept. 10.—Alleging that land at Arboga sold him by the Farm Land Investment Company of Sacramento is worthless, Edward Nelson filed suit today, and it is said other Swedish colonists will do likewise, seeking to recover money invested there. Nelson asks $15,000 damages and costs of suit. It probably means the termination of the famous Swedish Colony.

The Rev. A. Hallner, a Swedish missionary who induced them to invest their savings in the project, now land, says he had no ulterior motive in doing so. In commenting on it he says:

"I am positive that the Arboga colony will succeed, because God the Creator has ordained that the earth shall be sowed and inhabited of people who will overcome and rule her."

Hedding Building Contractor
Suicide Because of Big Losses Incurred on Stockton Job.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
REDDING (Cal.) Sept. 10.—Labor contractor in Stockton caused

Frank Scammon, a building contractor of this city, to commit suicide here last night, shortly after returning from Stockton. His body was found this morning with a revolver in the right hand and a bullet hole in his right temple.

Scammon recently wrote to his family that the labor troubles in Stockton, where he had a contract to build a new grammar school, had caused him large losses, and that he was greatly disheartened. A widow, a son, George Scammon of San Francisco, and a daughter living here, survive. The dead man was 51 years old.

Court Denies New Trial to Blackie Ford and H. D. Suhr, Sentenced for Hop-Hot Murder.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
SACRAMENTO, Sept. 10.—A new trial was denied Blackie Ford and H. D. Suhr, sentenced to life for the murder of Dist. Atty. Maxwell of Yuba county in the Wheatland hop riots last fall in a decision handed down by the Appellate Court today.

They appealed on the ground that they did not have a fair trial due to the prejudice in the county against them. Their release from jail has been demanded by the industrial workers of the World over since their imprisonment.

Ford is now confined in the Placer County Jail and Suhr in the Yuba County Jail.

OPEN SATURDAY TO 11 P.M.Why Travelers Like Tourist Sleepers

A large percentage of the total number of travelers each year between California and the East make this journey in tourist sleepers. The steady increase is quite natural there is an average difference of 25 per cent. between the price of transportation good in standard sleepers and that good in tourist sleepers, while these latter are being easily improved in the important features of car building, interior design and comfort. Those in Burlington service are of the latest construction; they have gas and electric light fixtures, carpeted aisles, ranges, lunch tables, lavatories, smoking compartments, and are carried in the Burlington's high-class electric lighted trains next to the dining car. Several tourist sleepers each week leave California under the escort of special Burlington conductors, whose sole duty is the care of those who have joined our conducted parties. The volume of travel today carried in these tourist sleepers is of itself an endorsement of this economical and comfortable way of crossing the continent. Now, add to these features of the Journey, Salt Lake, Colorado's scenic panorama, the Burlington's well-operated trains, the interesting cities along the way, and you have a combination of travel attractions that accounts for the success of these Burlington parties.

Can I tell you about these Tourist Sleeper Parties to Boston, Detroit, Buffalo, Chicago, St. Louis, Omaha and Kansas City, or send you literature?

THE CITY AND ENVIRONS.

EVENTS BRIEFLY TOLD.

Rally at Redondo Beach.

The Woman's Christian Temperance Union will hold a rally at Redondo Beach today, and will have a basket-picnic dinner in the park. Mrs. E. C. Wheeler will speak and all interested persons are invited to join the party.

Child Welfare Work.

The Lark Ellen Welfare League will hold its next meeting in the assembly-room at the Alexandria Hotel this afternoon at 3 o'clock. Addresses and discussions on the subject of child welfare work in Los Angeles county will be made by prominent speakers.

Open Patriotic Meeting.

Stanton Post, G. A. R., and Relief Corps will hold an open meeting tonight in Patriotic Hall, Hall of Records, to which all friends and sojourning comrades are invited. There will be a musical and literary program, and a pleasant evening is assured.

September Birthday Party.

A birthday party for all persons born in the month of September will be held at the home of P. E. Youm in Garvanza, on Sunday, at 3 o'clock, being promoted by Dr. M. B. Lawrence, the anti-cigarette advocate. All persons born during that month are invited.

For Jewish Consumptive.

A meeting of the Jewish Consumptive Relief Association will be held Sunday night at 8 o'clock at Sinai Temple, Twelfth and Valencia streets. Members of the temple, Sinai Social and Literary Club and others interested in the relief work have been asked to attend. Rabbi Farber and others will speak.

Surprise Wedding.

A little surprise for the Sun Drug Company was staged at the First Christian Church yesterday when Raymond R. Dalton and Miss Nellie Eastmore, both employees, were married. A romance had been suspected for some time. The bride was completely surprised. The young couple are residing at the Craig apartments.

Temple B'nai B'rith.

The weekly Sabbath services at Temple B'nai B'rith will be held this evening at 8 o'clock and tomorrow morning at 10:30. Dr. Hecht will read the services and speak tonight on "The Three Principal Steps to Progress," and exhortation of the current scripture lesson tomorrow. The choir will render the musical part of the services according to Prof. Rogers' setting, and Mrs. Rosenthal, the soprano of the Temple Quartette, will sing Samuel Liddie's melodious solo, "How Lovely Are Thy Dwellings."

The Sabbath eve service in Sinai Temple, corner of Twelfth and Valencia streets, will begin at 8 o'clock tonight. The usual introductory Sabbath hymn will be sung by the cantor, assisted by the choir and congregation, after which the Sabbath liturgy will be chanted in responsive reading by the rabbi and congregation. Dr. R. Farber will speak on "Elements and Ideals." Miss Helen Beatrice Cooper will sing the solo, "I Will Lay Me Down in Peace," by Evelyn. Tomorrow morning the service will begin at 9:30. The sermon will be preached at 10:45 on "Uses and Abuses of Power and Wealth." Dr. Farber will be in the vestry rooms of the temple on Sunday morning to enroll pupils for the ensuing sessions of the religious and Hebrew classes.

Those Library Assessments.

The First and Chicago Streets Library Site Committee, which is taking a leading part in the fight over the location for the proposed Boyle Heights branch library, made public a statement yesterday in correction of the values hitherto assigned. It is stated therein that the final price offered for the First and Chicago street site by the Huntington Land Company is $12,500 and that private citizens have subscribed $2500, making the sum to be raised by assessment through five zones $10,000. According to the statement the assessments for the various zones were originally $11.77, $8.25, $5.84, $3.84 and $1.77 for a fifty-foot lot. As the assessments are to be now the amounts for a fifty-foot lot will be respectively $7.85, $5.88, $3.92, $1.99 and 78 cents.

FINGER TORN OFF.

EL MONTE, Sept. 10.—Miss Mary Irwin of Pasadena was seriously injured while out driving this morning with Mrs. Robert Irwin, at whose home she has been visiting. The buggy was upset and both women thrown to the ground. Mrs. Irwin was uninjured, but in addition to being badly bruised, Miss Irwin had her right hand badly hurt, one finger being torn off and two others broken. At the hospital where the young woman was taken for treatment it is said to be doubtful if the hand can be saved.

TEARS REPLACE HIS SARCASM.

SWINDLER'S SMILE VANISHES AS HE FACES SENTENCE.

Mexican Bananas-Land Promoter Gets Nine Months for Selling Land He Didn't Own to Investors—Alleges He Was Double-Crossed by Landowner.

The sarcastic smile that played over the features of Clarence Bowers during his entire trial on the charge of using the mails to defraud, was conspicuous for its absence in the United States District Court yesterday when the convicted man stood up for sentence.

Bowers broke down completely when Judge Wellborn sentenced him to nine months in the County Jail, with a reason for a light sentence and wept so bitterly that his enunciation was choked and he was compelled to sit down.

Bowers claimed that he did not intend to defraud anybody in his Mexican banana proposition, but that he had been double-crossed by John Smith, a large land owner of Tampico, a witness for the government. Mr. Smith, he said, agreed to make him safe on his published statement that he (Bowers) owned the land that was purchased of Smith, and upon which but $1500 had been paid, Bowers allowing the contract to lapse.

Judge Wellborn sentenced Bowers to nine months in the County Jail, after Asst. Dist. Atty. Stone had asked that the court pass a penitentiary sentence. Bowers will have twenty days within which to prepare a bill of exceptions on appeal, which it was announced would be taken. He will be at liberty until that time.

Bowers was convicted of carrying on a banana plantation scheme in Mexico. The land which he claimed to own, although the evidence showed that he only had deeds to about sixty acres, secured after the prosecution of the defendant was begun, consisted of more than 600 acres, a large part of which he sold to investors at $200 an acre. The testimony showed that not only did he not own the land when he said he did, but that he utterly failed to carry out his agreement with reference to the cultivation of the land, that was to be planted to bananas, and the people who put their money in the scheme only had to wait down the annual profits. Postoffice Inspector Webster, who marshaled the facts in the case, says that Bowers, who operated under the firm name of the C. P. Bowers Company, although the company was never incorporated, cleaned up about $15,000 in the transaction. All that a few of the investors have to show for their money is a deed to small parcels of the land, and expert Spanish testimony showed is not worth the paper the conveyances are printed on. People of small means were the victims of Bowers, a number putting every dollar they could scrape into the plan that was advertised and circulated all over Southern California.

LARGER HALO
FOR HOLY HI.Governor Opens Campaign at Shrine Auditorium.Sees Peril in "Millionaire" Editors of State.Admits Pet Measures Abused
in Practice.

Gov. Johnson's authoritative declaration that this is to be a campaign of "villification and abuse" was borne out last night at his Shrine Auditorium meeting where the Chief Executive talked to a large audience of "Progressives" and formally opened his campaign in Southern California.

For an hour or so the audience was impressed with the increasing holiness of HI; the enlarging halo that is a part of his impedimenta loomed in even brighter radiance as he tilted it at an attractive angle and placed into his opponent's hands a critical dealing of a vicious array of bitter expletives.

Gov. Johnson announced himself in a receptive attitude toward the voters of all parties and never once did he mention himself or his associates as candidates of the "Progressive" party. He said that the direct primary had sounded the doom of blind partisanship in California and that it became a rainbow, seen through a rift in the clouds—a rainbow of promise to lift the people of the State from their political thrall, and he left the inference that it was he who wrote it into the statutes, instead of having discovered it there when he first pressed the crease from his trousers in the executive chair.

He declared he will force Capt. Fredericks to stand up and answer what laws he will repeat and he demanded to know what in particular are the "fads and fancies" of the Johnson administration referred to by the Republican candidate.

Gov. Johnson told the men and women assembled that when his administration was struggling to eliminate graft and greed and corruption from the State government, when he was in a death grapple with the forces of the one hand as against indelicacy on the other, three agencies assailed him and defended the infancy he was trying to create. These agencies, he said, are M. H. DeYoung, with the San Francisco Chronicle; Gen. Harrison Gray Otis, with the Los Angeles Times; and John D. Spreckels, with the San Diego Union. At all times did he pause in his oratorical flight to charge these three as "millionaire millionaires" and "millionaire millionaires" with "marauding" and "plundering" the State into "intellectual darkness" and to restore the people to a political thralldom in the grasp of corporate greed and machine rule.

"The Railroad Commission has taught every man and woman in the State," he said, but he declined to state the extent of the "teaching." He denied the assertion of his Republican opponent that there was a Railroad Commission prior to 1910. He asserted that "one striking example that lives in bygone days" demands a repeal of the Railroad Commission law.

Gov. Johnson was reluctant to admit that the initiative, referendum and recall had not worked out properly. The referendum, he said, had been put to some abuse; and the initiative had fallen upon ways "that you and I would rather it had not fallen," but he said "there may come a time when these militant editors will ride into power and you will then remember that the initiative, referendum and recall are your only weapons of defense. And in so remembering that some day they may be of some use do not now condemn the system because it has been used as it should not have been used."

He lauded the Workmen's Compensation Act, the Railroad Commission and Board of Control, and said his administration had been costly only to the "crooked contractor and rotten politician."

In referring to the attitude of the Republican party, Gov. HI said it must either adopt the record of the last four years or repudiate it; and he challenged the Republicans to repudiate his work in a single instance.

He charged that Capt. Fredericks is the creature of the same old political machine, and between charges he took unto himself credit for the enactment of every beneficial law that has been written in the statutes of the last ten years. He claimed credit for having given the women of California the suffrage, and he reminded the women of this and other things at frequent intervals.

Francis J. Heney, the "Progressive" candidate for United States Senator, had made good his threat to appear on the platform with Johnson. The candidate waited until the Johnson demonstration had subsided and then he coddled up to E. T. Earl, but he did not receive more than the benign smile that Mr. Toopkins turned upon him. Lieut. Gov. "Limitation" Wallace rose at the close of the Governor's speech to halt the fast-thundering crowd, but only a few remained through the two minutes of the Heney address—the two minutes that Johnson said he would get, and no more.

Mrs. Eliza Tupper Wilkes and Thomas E. Gibbo there were the testimony to Holy HI, saying that as Democrats they would support him. Lieut-Gov. Wallace, who was chairman of the meeting, said he wanted Gov. Johnson re-elected, and that should settle the matter without the necessity for an election. Gov. Johnson addressed the students at the Manual Arts High School yesterday at noon and received an enthusiastic reception. He discussed various humane questions and offered as the solution of all problems the perpetration of himself and his movement in power.

TULARE ORGANIZES.

The Republican County Central Committee of Tulare county effected an organization yesterday by the election of S. O. Walker, a prominent operator, as chairman, and W. R. Bailey, of Visalia, secretary. These, with J. G. Ropes of Woodlake, George Murry of Porterville, M. J. Ropes of Visalia and G. W. Zartman of Tulare, will comprise the executive committee.

The Democrats elected former Dist. Atty. Daniel McPadrean chairman, J. Sub Johnson, secretary, and M. Mitchell, treasurer. The chairman and secretary, with C. W. Breen of Lindsay, Frank Ellsworth of Tulare, N. F. Bradley of Visalia, D. B. Day of Woodlake and W. R. Clark of Porterville, were named as an executive committee.

Deputy District Attorney J. M. Burke was chosen chairman of the "Progressive" county committee, with C. A. Whitmore as secretary, and George A. Fleming as treasurer. The executive committee will consist of these three and H. H. Chandler of Exeter, H. J. Barrett of Dinuba, D. M. Conner of Lindsay and W. M. Thompson of Tipton.

In Kern County.

Owing to the fact that the official canvass of the primary election returns in Kern county was not completed till late Wednesday night organization of the several county central committees was not possible on Tuesday. Election of officers was as follows:

Republican—Col. T. H. Minor, temporary chairman; R. S. Asha, temporary secretary.

Democrat—E. M. Roerts, temporary chairman; J. A. Hughes, temporary secretary.

"Progressive"—J. W. Jameson, permanent chairman; J. W. Croiland, permanent secretary.

Socialist—Theodore Landrum, permanent chairman; T. F. Allen, permanent secretary.

Political Field Gleanings.

Capt. Fredericks will begin his speech-making tour of the State on September 19, with a big rally at San Diego. He is expected to campaign in Southern California for about ten days when he will go to the extreme northern end and work south, reaching Los Angeles on October 31, for the largest meeting of the campaign, a meeting which will officially close the work.

The Republican League will be addressed at its meeting in Eagle's Hall tonight by W. M. Bowen, Republican county chairman.

Several Republican candidates for the Assembly and other Republican nominees, who are delegates to the State convention at Sacramento, will leave this evening for San Francisco.

Jordan Wins Another.

With the official count in only a few counties yet to be heard from, Frank C. Jordan, Secretary of State, is indicated as the Democratic nominee for re-election. There was no regular Democrat on the ballot for the nomination, and Secretary Jordan's name was written in upon Democratic ballots, giving him a majority of the "written-in" vote. Secretary Jordan won the Republican nomination with hardly an effort, his "opposing" opponents being outclassed.

Independent Supporters of Conroy Appoint Committee to Carry Fight to Successful Finish.

Working entirely on their own initiative and with their own ideas as to how a campaign should be carried to the limit to keep Judge Conroy, candidate for presiding justice of the Court of Appeal, on the bench where he now is, an enthusiastic group of prominent Southern Californians met last night in the offices of Hunsaker & Britt. They appointed a committee to take charge of the fight.

Other committees of boosters and hard workers will be appointed next Wednesday night, when another meeting will be held. They are all independent supporters of Judge Conroy, whom they style the best man for the position.

Ex-Judge Bordwell is leading the fight and is bringing much influence to bear upon other prominent citizens of Southern California to join in the fight.

Within a few days committees in every part of this, the Second District, which extends from San Diego county north to Kings county, including the Inyo district, will be formed. Among those composing the general committee appointed last night are Stoddard Jess, Mrs. E. R. Brainerd, W. M. Bowen and Ex-Judge Hervey.

AT ACCUSER'S HOME.

Alleged Los Angeles Swindler, in Custody of Officers, Reaches Cleveland to Face Charges.

Word was received here last night that Daniel T. Larn, alias Daniel T. Ray, of Los Angeles, had reached Cleveland yesterday, where he will face the charges of Miss Emma E. Ewalt of that city, who alleges that he swindled her out of $2400 on a mining deal. The case was set for trial in Federal grand jury in that city this month. His bail has been fixed at $2500.

Ewalt says that she met Ray in Central Park, this city, in December, 1910. After a short acquaintance she charges that he asked her to marry him and she accepted his proposition that he had.

He was arrested here recently and taken East a few days ago.

BURGLARS GET MUCH DOOT.

Mrs. Simon Gavanon of No. 2153 West Twenty-sixth street yesterday reported to the police that her residence had been entered during the family's two-month absence and that silver, jewelry and wearing apparel valued at $1000 stolen.

The following new members will be added to the faculty of Occidental College, which institution will open for the fall and winter sessions on September 22: Hubert Gibson Shearin, head of English department; William A. Sharpe, mechanical and free-hand drawing; William W. McConnell, Spanish; Mr. McConnell graduated from Occidental last year; Cary T. Wright, on sick leave and his place will be taken by W. Maxwell Burke, as professor of economics; J. W. Eggleston, who it was announced had resigned, has withdrawn his resignation, and will be in charge of work in geology and botany.

B'NAI B'RITH LITERARY SOCIETY.

The Young People's Literary Society of Temple B'nei B'rith held a meeting last night at which a musical and literary programme was rendered. Marco Newman spoke upon the necessity for an election.

Gov. Johnson addressed the students at the Manual Arts High School yesterday at noon and received an enthusiastic reception. He discussed various humane questions and offered as the solution of all problems the perpetration of himself and his movement in power.

War's Evil Effects.

[Pittsburgh Dispatch.] It's astonishing how much domestic trouble this war is causing right in little old New York. Here's a case of a German who has fled suit for divorce because his wife kept asking him to drop his work and go over to Germany and fight. "I don't see that I've any call to go and fight for Germany," he said. "I am a citizen of this country and I don't intend to do anything for me—never did anything for me—and I'm pretty busy fighting for living. But I can't live with my wife any longer, that's certain." Then there's a sad case of an old German war veteran of Brooklyn who is causing right in little old New York. Here's a case of a German who has fled suit for divorce because his wife kept asking him to drop his work and go over to Germany and fight. "I don't see that I've any call to go and fight for Germany," he said. "I am a citizen of this country and I don't intend to do anything for me—never did anything for me—and I'm pretty busy fighting for living. But I can't live with my wife any longer, that's certain." DISTANCE LENDS ENCHANTMENT.

NOTORIOUS WOMAN JUMPS BAIL AND GOES NORTH TO FORGET IT.

Three times the name of Leah Alexander, the young woman of Titian tresses who slew her alleged betrayer, J. D. Van Baalen, a San Francisco advertising man, was called in Police Judge Williams's court yesterday afternoon. When there came no response her bail of $25 was ordered forfeited. Miss Alexander was arrested early Sunday morning, August 30, at Thirteenth and Connecticut streets. She had participated in an evening of revelry at No. 1939 Blaine street, and was in the street screaming that she had been robbed when the officers reached her. After investigating the story, detectives charged her with disturbing the peace. Trial was set for yesterday afternoon.

According to her attorney, Frank Dominguez, Miss Alexander has left for Portland, where she hopes to forget the memories of her past and start life anew. She was acquitted by a jury in San Francisco in February for the murder of Van Baalen after she had told of her trip with him to the West Indies and the deception she said he had practiced upon her. She came to Los Angeles, and, under the name of Miss Warren, sought work as a milliner. She held the position for a short time, but her identity was learned. Then she had to hunt for work again. She told her attorney that the last affair precluded her finding a position in this city and consequently went north to live among strangers that she may escape her Nemesis-like name.

TRoubles PILING UP.

Man Indicted of Using Mails to Defraud Is Arrested. In Vancouver Charged With Manslaughter.

Nicholas Field, Wilson, who, with several other defendants, connected with the Seaboard Oil and Transit Company, is awaiting trial in the local district court, was arrested Tuesday morning, on the charge of using the mails in a scheme to defraud, in a trouble again.

Advices received by Postoffice Inspector G. E. Webster, say that Wilson was recently placed under arrest in Vancouver on a charge of manslaughter, the allegation being that Wilson, with his chauffeur, Hillstrom, used for an automobile, in Burnaby, near New Westminster, struck Mrs. Nellie Lewis, and inflicted injuries from which she afterwards died.

The pending action against Wilson and his associates was called in the Federal court some time ago, but Wilson was not here. On the representations of his attorneys that he would be ready later, the matter was set for November 24.

Committee Drafting New Juvenile Court Law Asks for Suggestions Regarding It.

If any one thinks the present Juvenile Court law is defective, a suggestion as to the defects will be received by the committee now making a draft of a new law to be submitted to the State committee. Judge Wilson is chairman of the committee, having been appointed by the State conference, and in connection with the Commonwealth Club of San Francisco, and several local organizations, he is devoting this week to drafting a new and better law.

The committee consists of the judges of the juvenile courts of Los Angeles, San Bernardino, Alameda, Kern, San Francisco, Santa Clara and San Diego counties; W. J. Desmond, Long Beach; Rev. D. O. Crowley, San Francisco; Dr. Mrs. E. L. Baldwin, San Francisco; Martin Meyer, San Francisco; Arthur Miller, Sacramento, and Mrs. Sheehan, San Francisco.

IMMIGRANT ARRESTED.

Yee Wing, who escaped indictment by the Federal grand jury on the charge of having in his possession a forged certificate of residence, was put in the County Jail yesterday, having been picked up in a garden in the vicinity of Riverside by Immigration Inspector Brasen. Yee Wing will now be charged with being illegally in the country.

IVORY IN COMMERCE.

Three-quarters of a Million Dollars Worth Stored in the Warehouses at the London Docks.

[London Answers:] When the King and Queen visited the London docks a short time ago, they saw laid out on the floor of one of the great warehouses $750,000 worth of ivory—an array of fine tusks which must have represented great hunting adventures in tropical forests.

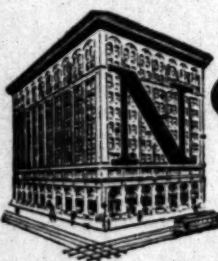

Africa is the chief source of the world's supply of ivory, and it is estimated that 70,000 elephants are annually slaughtered for their tusks. But not more than 20 per cent. of the ivory is represented in the total imports to Europe.

Elephants have been dying off for years and years, and it is only since ivory came into general use that their tusks have been dug from the soil. Some of them have, in the meantime, been used by natives in many ways. Even today some native chiefs in the interior of Africa possess stockades round their palaces, composed of rows of tusks collected when they were of little value and they now barter these for the luxuries of modern life.

But elephants still abound in the German Southwest African district known as Caprivi. This place is in the extreme south of Cameroonia, has been completely unexplored by Germans in order to avoid irritating the natives, and yet the district contains more elephants than any other in Africa. The Portuguese are well acquainted with the fact, and the ivory which they convey thence via Angola has long been a source of unlimited wealth.

Of course, ivory is produced in small quantities by the hippopotamus, narwhale and sperm-whale, but the comparatively insignificant tusks of the former have long ceased to suffice even for dentists alone, though no other kind of ivory is adapted for their special requirements. Any supply that may be extracted from the ocean is obviously of too slight and precarious a nature to be relied on, and though important remains of mammoth tusks are from time to time unearthed in Siberia, the ivory trade, both ancient and modern has practically depended upon the African elephant.

Although in recent years the ivory imported into London has decreased, the falling off has been caused by a new market having been created by the opening up of the Congo Free State. The ivory coming from that region is now sold in Antwerp, so that when the quantities sent to both markets are put together, the total imports actually show an increase. The average weight of ivory obtained from a single elephant is about fifty pounds, but tusks weighing up to 150 pounds and 180 pounds have been procured. Examples have even been

NOT Only Authorized but Better Qualified

It is not enough to say that the SECURITY is authorized by law to act as Executor or Administrator of estates, Guardian of the estates of minors and incompetents, and Trustee under wills and agreements.

It should also be understood that it is better qualified than any individual to act in any of these capacities!

An individual may die; he may become incapacitated, mentally or physically; his own business may so absorb his time and energy that he can give but little time to the affairs of the estate; or the assets of the estate may become involved in his own private affairs.

The SECURITY will exist indefinitely and its responsibilities cannot be evaded. Above all, this bank brings to the administration of all trusts committed to it the benefits of years of experience and the services of minds trained to deal with any fiduciary problems which may arise. Trust funds are kept entirely separate from our banking assets and a deposit of $400,000.00 with the State Treasurer insures the faithful execution of all trusts placed with us.

Consultation with our officers carries with it no obligations.

The most expensive tusks are those used in the manufacture of billiard balls; they have cost as much as $150 per hundred weight, but the average price is probably nearer $100 per hundred weight. The average price for the best tusks may be stated at from $2. to $12. per pound. Apart from billiard balls, ivory is chiefly used for knife and other handles, combs, piano keys, chessmen, and carved ornaments.

All the tusks are sorted into sizes and qualities, and the shavings that are left over after the manufacturers have taken what they want are made up into a thousand small articles in everyday use.

Although ivory has been the subject of almost as much artistic perception and workmanship as gold itself, it is with its purely utilitarian aspects that people are now chiefly concerned. Many substances have been applied to the purposes for which real ivory is admittedly supreme. Celluloid, for instance, is one of its counterfeiters, and a poor one, indeed; but it has been immensely developed during recent years, particularly in the United States. A great many things that were once made of ivory may, now, be made of celluloid.

Then there is what is known as vegetable ivory, produced from the nut of the tagua plant, a native of the northern regions of South America. The kernels of these nuts when ripe are exceedingly hard and white, and bear a remarkable resemblance to real ivory. They are extensively used in the manufacture of buttons, umbrella handles and small trinkets, and millions of them are being imported into Great Britain every year.

The House of Hapsburg.

[Indianapolis News:] The origin of the Hapsburg, the royal house of Austria, is more wonderful than a romance. The founder, so goes the story, was Rudolph of Hapsburg, a young Swiss Count, poor and obscure. One day, while riding in the chase, he came to a stream beside which was a monk who was in great distress at not being able to cross over. He told the young Count that he had been summoned to give the last sacraments to a dying person, but was unable to perform that duty. The Count leaped from his horse, helped the monk to the saddle, who crossed the stream and hurried to his destination. The next day the monk sent the horse back with the warmest thanks. "God forbid," said the Count, "that I should ever ride a horse that has carried the Savior to a dying man," and sent the horse to the monk as a gift to the church. In the course of time the monk became chaplain to the Prince Elector of Mainz. A new Emperor was to be chosen. The monk persuaded his patron to present the name of Count Rudolph to the assembled electors, and the poor Count of Hapsburg was ascended one day to find that he had been chosen to wear the crown of the Holy Roman Empire.

A Two-Story Lake.

[New York Sun:] One of the wonders of Mexico is the self-producing lake near Salinas station, on the Tampico division of the Mexican Central Railway, seventy-two miles west of San Luis Potosi. It may well be termed a two-story lake, for at times there is a lake of fresh water overlying the salt lake. A water-tight roof of green mud separates the fresh from the salt water.

For a large part of the year there is no fresh-water lake there. The sun licks it up soon after the rainy season is over.

The salt secured from the lake goes all over Mexico. The lake has been worked about sixty-five years. The whole town of 5000 people makes its living from the salt. The property is owned by a family of estate, but it is said that not one of the owners has lived there for years. The old residence of the owners is still standing at Salinas. Its massive walls and towers and turrets give the place a resemblance to a fort or feudal castle.

influential people in Los Angeles, but the home is not founded on charity. "The children in my home are not made to believe that they are being cared for through charity," said Miss White. "I impress it upon them that their way is being paid and that they are not objects of charity."

Miss White now is taking care of five children. In most instances she says their parents are paying for their keep, a nominal charge which she accepts. She accepts the help and are unable to properly look after the little ones.

One of the charges preferred against Miss White in the recent investigation was that the children in her home were not cleanly and that they were a menace to the public health. In refutation of this Miss White says she has a letter from the principal of the school that they are above the average in cleanliness and show every indication of being well kept and carefully cared for. She says two of her wards graduated last year and four will get diplomas this year.

DOWN WOMAN DIES.

Death of Old Alberger of San Francisco Suddenly Away at Home Here.

Francis Augusta Alberger, a well-known resident of San Francisco, died at his home here, 1146 Pine street, this morning at 10 o'clock.

Alberger was 82 years of age. He was the son of William Alberger, a well-known San Francisco resident, and the daughter of John J. Eddy, a prominent San Francisco resident.

Alberger was a member of the San Francisco Chamber of Commerce and the San Francisco Board of Trade.

He was a well-known philanthropist and had contributed generously to many charitable organizations.

TREND OF THE FINANCIAL NEWS.

CHIEF DEVELOPMENTS YESTERDAY.

(At Home.) Financial conditions were reported satisfactory in the East and West. Morgan, Schiff and other financiers held a conference in Washington on the condition of the foreign exchange market.

The bankers of New York are to underwrite $30,000,000 of the obligations of the United States in Europe and the remainder will be handled by the rest of the country.

About $25,000,000 of the emergency currency is now in circulation in the United States. The New York bond subscription has been completed.

(Abroad.) South American republics are feeling keenly the effects of the war in the curtailment of their trade and revenue and a conference was held in Washington yesterday for the purpose of devising ways and means to stimulate trade. A committee was appointed to look after the matter.

(For development see financial page.)

BEWARE!

"Whose keepeth his mouth and his tongue keepeth his soul from troubles." Just remember that, young man, before you propose.

CONVINCING.

The labor statistics being gathered in Los Angeles by the Federal Commission will be food for national digest. The long fight to keep this city industrially free bears better fruit for every season.

WEAKENING THE MARKET.

Many of the German stores in America have a sign out advising the public that it is no longer possible to procure Limburger cheese. They can now keep a sweet breath if not a sweet temper over the war.

IMPERIAL VALLEY'S FAIR.

Regardless of the war, the farmers of the Imperial Valley continue to grow bumper crops and to sell and exhibit them. Their fair in November will be the finest of the sort yet offered by that remarkable section.

BUT THEY WON'T.

A double killing was the result of a love song when a young Mexican poured out his heart in melody as he strummed his guitar. This should teach the youth of the land better, but it would take more than a double killing to convince them.

THE BINEWS OF WAR.

Sir John French smokes cigarettes constantly while on the firing line. He is winning some of his battles in spite of this habit. The cigarettes might have worked better if the enemy could have been persuaded to take up the vice ten years ago.

WELCOME TO HIM.

The English are heartily welcome to the services of Gen. Rhys Price. Except when in the moving-picture business here he has been a rather bad American actor with his insatiable appetite for Mexican revolutions. The European situation at present should be able to satisfy the general's longest for military activity.

THE MONTANA VIEW.

Mine owners at Butte seem in a fair way of settling the labor troubles there in a sensible fashion. They have decided since the unions only quarrel among themselves that they will not be subjected to further annoyance from this source, but will employ any capable miners they please without regard to unionism. They should have done this in the first place and thus have saved annoyance to everybody concerned.

SMITH FOREVER.

The Democrats of Arizona had one Senator to nominate this year and they have decided if their party is successful to return Mark Smith to Washington. They have made a good decision. Smith has lived more at the capital than in Arizona the last twenty-five years and is able to do his State a lot of good. Besides, his political enemies use such unfair methods of fighting that the manhood of Arizona resented this by an overwhelming vote.

DON'T WAIT.

The President of the United States has set aside Sunday, October 4, as a day when all Americans shall pray for the peace of the world. This occasion should be taken in good faith by all people, but no one need wait three weeks to begin their supplications that Europe's war shall be brought to a speedy close. Indeed, it is to be hoped that the devout people of this land have not waited for any suggestion of the kind but that their prayers have been constant since the war's inception. If thought is truly the great force, then the right thinking of our people may hope to counterbalance the turmoil of Europe.

LIVE SETTLER.

A man left Colton two years ago with forty dollars and opened a grocery store in a new country in Arizona. He is at Buena, a station on a branch line that runs from the El Paso and Southwestern to Fort Huachuca. His business has expanded to a general mercantile establishment of considerable proportions and he worked it out in a most interesting manner. He put in a tennis court, baseball grounds, and a croquet set and invited the public to make itself at home there on Sunday and holidays. There is no town at Buena, but the public comes from ranches for a distance of twenty miles to spend Sunday with him. Sunday night the public goes home with wagons stocked with provisions. This is still enterprise and merits the success that has crowned it.

OVERSEAS—THE SITUATION TO DATE. The crucial battle raging in France has not yet come to a decisive result and no peace measures are in process there. This summarizes the situation up to the minute. A pastoral letter by the Pope was made public in Rome yesterday in which the Pontiff calls for renewed efforts to spread religion throughout the world and urges peace and brotherhood among peoples and nations in fear of God. And it is also true that the French and English allies in the fighting, so far as it went yesterday in France, have forced the Germans back a distance of thirty-seven miles. But the war is not over and the umpire of national and racial tumults, that master influence that is supposed to sway even the fates, has not yet rendered a decision. Just what the nations of western Europe and England are going to get out of the war is not at all clear. But what the Turk expects to get is patent. The Turk spoke last night through the Ambassador of the Porte in Washington.

"This war is Turkey's opportunity." Nobody will gainsay the plain-spoken Ambassador of the Porte in Washington who was so fluent the other day in alleging that England and France had hatched a "vulgar plot" to embroil the United States that he had to "eat his own words" twenty-four hours later.

Turkey is Asiatic.

So that if this war is Turkey's opportunity it may come to be also Asia's opportunity.

LESSON OF OPPORTUNITY.

Abnormal economic conditions consequent upon the war in Europe have taught the American people a tariff lesson that should leave an indelible impression on the administration of the nation's affairs.

Withdrawal of foreign supplies and sharp advance in prices of necessary commodities bring into sharp relief facts that unanswerably argue for a reasonable protective tariff for American industries.

Under normal conditions many American products cannot be manufactured in competition with foreign goods without some protection. Some lines need only slight protection, others more. As the situation is now there appears to be opportunity for the extension of American manufacture to the amount of hundreds of millions of dollars annually. A tremendous advantage could be gained by acting promptly, for every immediate condition is favorable. The president of one of the biggest wholesale houses in the West recently said that American manufacturers of products in his line will accomplish as much in establishing themselves and their wares in one year now as they could hope to do in twenty years ordinarily.

The one thing that is greatest in the investment of capital, building new industrial plants and rehabilitating others is the fear that once normal conditions prevail again a lack of adequate protection will deprive these industries of the permanent strength so vital to business enterprises. Leading business men of Los Angeles and other big centers, looking at the situation in a broad way, are optimistic. They believe the lessons of the war and of the times have made it forever impossible for free trade or a too low tariff to again prevail, that the overwhelming weight of the opinion of the people will insure reasonable and adequate protection for legitimate American industries. But, even though this optimistic belief is strong and general, timidity in branching out is apparent. The bugbear of unchecked competition with cheap foreign products looms menacingly before manufacturers who would otherwise be rushing into the field of production.

Here in Southern California the sugar beet growers face anomalous circumstances. When the tariff was removed from sugar several California factories prepared to shut down. Extension of the beet-growing industry was checked. Now, with prices sharply advanced, the local factories will produce all they can. A government investigator here from Washington says the 80,000 acres now in beets could profitably be increased to 150,000 acres. The Department of Agriculture is about to establish permanent headquarters in Los Angeles to help the California growers improve their product and solve their problems. With assurance of adequate protection and it need not be much—there is every reason to believe that the beet growers and sugar manufacturers of California would take full advantage of the present opportunity, extend the area of cultivation and increase production 50 to 75 per cent.

Removal of duty from cyanide has created a similar condition, one that threatens the mining industry of the West. Free cyanide drove every American factory out of business. One is preparing to start up part of its plant to supply the pressing immediate need. With small protection the entire industry, competent authorities say, would be re-established with an impetus that would make it more valuable and more important than ever before.

Inability to secure chemicals and other materials from Europe has brought to light that in the Southwest and other portions of the country are inexhaustible deposits of valuable minerals. America's resources are such that it can supply its every need regardless of all other countries. The advisability of being in a position to take advantage of its vast riches is strikingly shown now. American goods for foreign people has become a watchword of commercial value. Increased productivity and consequent greater prosperity are within our grasp. The opportunity is not being wasted, but the fear of future tariff oppression may prevent the sweeping expansion that American enterprise would otherwise accomplish.

GOOD FORM.

A young boy captured a burglar while cled in a bathrobe. It was the boy, not the burglar, who was thus picturesquely arrayed. There are no rules of etiquette prescribing what a man shall wear when engaged in this interesting pastime. Sometimes one wears a policeman's uniform for the occasion, but this is rare.

Saving the Country.

LABOR CLEARINGHOUSES.

One of the few measures for which President Wilson's administration is deserving of commendation is the establishment of Federal employment agencies and immigrant aid stations. The first of these to be placed in operation will be at Boston. They are intended to be clearinghouses for labor and to work prevention of unemployment.

Anthony Caminetti, the Federal Commissioner of Emigration, will be in charge of these "bureaus." He says "it is intended that they shall bring to the attention of men and women the many opportunities for work on farms and other labor in all parts of the country." Employers will be invited to make known their wants. No fees will be charged either employers or employees. The government will receive from employers money for the transportation of employees to the scene of their labor; will purchase their tickets; will check their baggage to its destination and will forward the checks to the employer as collateral for the good faith of the man for whose transportation the funds were advanced.

HOPES OF PEACE.

A movement, almost world-wide in its scope, has been started to end the war in Europe. The nations involved are showing more and more indications—faint, elusive and cautious indications—of being ready to quit fighting. His Holiness, Pope Benedict, is bending every effort toward the same end attempted by the American diplomats.

But perhaps the most gratifying information comes from our financiers who are in close touch with money conditions all over the world. They declare that the war cannot possibly last but a few weeks longer at the present rate of expenditure, because the cost of practically every fighting nation will be exhausted.

Patriotism and racial hatred may be unquenchable; a nation or a group of nations may be fanatical and determined; but military operations cannot be conducted without money. And one of the important reasons for the half-expressed willingness of some of the governments to open peace negotiations may be that they are face to face with empty treasuries.

The admission with which the diplomats intimate the inclination of their respective powers to cease fighting is remarkable. Without committing herself to any definite statement, Germany has given out the impression that she is ready at any time to consider mediation. Without saying anything in particular, England has succeeded in letting it be understood that she abhors war and would be ready to stop any day if—

And it is the "ifs," the stipulations, the provisions, the demands and counter-demands that prevent the bugles from sounding "cease firing."

Everyone knows that each nation is tired of war. For over a month each has been sending forth its best men to be shot down; for over a month destruction has trampled fertile fields and rich cities; for over a month industry has been wrecked by cannons and ruined by idleness; for over a month millions upon millions of dollars have been wasted, squandered, thrown into the air doing harm and not a penny's worth of good.

What actual success has attended the diplomatic labors of the American administration to bring about mediation between the conflicting governments is not known. It is natural that proceedings of this nature should be guarded in secrecy. But it is certain President Wilson having intimated as much—that there is reason to hope.

Announcement comes from Rome that both Germany and Austria have informed Pope Benedict that they are favorably disposed to assist his efforts to restore peace, and that Russia may leave the proposal to the deferential considerations of England and France.

The proclamation of President Wilson, setting aside October 4 as a day of national prayer for peace, must have influence upon the European situation. If nothing more, it brings to the attention of the people of Europe the fact that this, the greatest nation in the world, does not sympathize with any combatant in the continental struggle. It is well known that each of the countries wanted and most of them counted upon the moral support and sympathy of the United States. And that we, as a nation, not only refuse to encourage either France, Germany, England, Russia or Austria, but discountenance and oppose the entire war, must have a great deal to do with the general willingness to open negotiations.

CONCILIATION OPENS.

Germany's wonderful achievements in the war are chiefly attributable to her genius for business organization. She has constructed a splendidly disciplined army that moves like a machine, wherein the minutest detail has been carefully studied and no flaw nor likelihood of weakness overlooked. In war she has applied the same thoroughness that in peace formerly gave her the commercial supremacy in Europe.

Germany has proved the value of perfect discipline. England's strength, on the other hand, rests on her conciliatory attitude toward the many portions of her scattered empire. When it comes to personal courage and bravery the honors are even; every country is brave at heart. The final arbiter for success in the strain of war may be after all only the course a nation has pursued during the earlier times of peace.

Great Britain is not a military power in the sense that Germany, Russia and France are military powers. She has no conscription. Pitted against any of the continental powers the army of England is insignificant. Yet in spite of this her influence is tremendous.

Some of the latest dispatches throw an illuminating light on the strong position of Great Britain. And this shows plainly that England's conciliatory attitude to all her colonies and dependencies is the real source of her strength. For the British Empire has attempted to live up to that standard of democracy that has made the United States the nation most sought after as a friend by all the world powers today.

In his devotion to his religion the Moslem is fanatical. The attempt of the Turks to play on this feeling by urging a holy war by the Moslems in Egypt, including, of course, a revolt against British control, has failed. Why? Because the Egyptian fellah has discovered that he enjoys greater freedom under a British regime than he could ever hope for as a subject of the Sultan. The Egyptian Moslem does not intend to exchange the white loaf of the Christian for the black crust of the Turk. The Assouan dam and Egyptian cotton will hold Egypt for the British.

In South Africa again the Boer population generally are loyal to the empire. Because the Boers have discovered that they are practically as free to manage their own affairs today as they were under President Kruger. Moreover, the last decade has been for them one of progress and prosperity. So the Boer farmers are not eager to throw off the mild democracy of Britain for the stern discipline of Germany. Had Great Britain attempted to oppress South Africa as the Russians have oppressed the Poles, she would certainly have lost all her possessions between Rhodesia and Cape Town.

Even in India, in spite of considerable dissatisfaction and unrest, the native population as a whole are standing behind the empire at this crisis in her history. Peace decides wars. The manner in which a nation has conducted its affairs during years of peace establishes the strength of that nation when it goes to the test of war. For certainly not to her small army, not even to her powerful navy, must the British people look for succor in weathering the present storm, but to the record she has established for justice and conciliation in dealing with the widely-scattered elements of many races, creeds and tongues that have come under the folds of the Union Jack. It is hardly an exaggeration to declare that the lesson learnt at Yorktown started Great Britain on the right path, demonstrated to her wherein lay her real strength, and so made her through the friendship of her colonies invulnerable to the attacks of an enemy.

WAR AND MANNERS.

BY JONATHAN EASTER.

When there is a sudden breaking-out upon an otherwise well-ordered human, the first thing to do is to get the salve and line up the mediators, but the next thing is to adjust your daily habits to the eruption, for the ultimate benefit of both. When there is a breaking out on the social cosmos, have your "conversations" and little harmless diplomacies and offers of good offices, yes, and then go about the social readjustments in a casual and philosophical way. In either case take refuge in the fact that you don't have 'em as often as you used to have 'em.

It doesn't avail us anything to go around with a sweet and smile and wish we didn't have it. We've got it, and so when you wash don't get any soap in it; and when a bomb falls on somebody's silk umbrella don't run in and try to penalize for a fool. If you find you've got a bun on the bottom of your foot don't expect to lower the world's mile record while it's there.

They say a boll is worth a large sum of money to your system. Of course we are not making researches into ways and means of obtaining bolis, on that assumption, but when you've got a boll on your neck, fix it up the best you can and leave off your high collar. Maybe you'll learn to wear low collars and it will be all the better for you.

Our social readjustments this time will not be so burdensome, perhaps. This war is what might be called a acute war at about may upset things pretty seriously while it lasts, but many experts think it will soon be over. There have been wars (like the little pleasantries in Mexico) when a person almost forgot he had a war at about some day when the pestiferous field force came and sat down in a farmer's kitchen for a free lunch and then burned the kitchen. If, when they rode away, the farmer took a pop at them with his shotgun, that was a regular atrocity. The army at the front seemed to get the war habit and when it became chronic a farmer couldn't venture whether he could put in a crop ten years from now.

It makes all the difference in the world as to the nature of the social ailment to which you must accommodate yourself. There have been many varieties of war, and society has had to do double hand-springs before now.

A state of war brings about an entirely new set of ideals, and, after all, ideals are only relative. In peace time it is rude to kill a man with a gun, and society will hunt you down and punish you if you do it. In peace time it makes everybody angry to see superior physical force override the weak (although they think differently when contemplating mental force). In time of war it is the same of heroism for a man to ride into certain death, and not the same of folly at all. Ideals are governed by the light we have, and in the density of our mental blackness a little contrast of military light and civil light makes small accounts.

During the attack of the Portuguese on Madrid, in the reign of Philip V, it was thought noble and altogether a neat little trick for those courteous having venereal diseases to go to the enemy's camp at night and popularize their deadly ailments. That was hitting below the belt if anything has ever been in war, but it all depended upon the circumstances. Under those circumstances it was considered entirely hot stuff by everybody excepting the thousands who died of the diseases. All the ideals in Madrid were adjusted to fit the emergency, even as the country excursion habits were adjusted to accommodate themselves to the growing perils of country life.

War, for the nonce, becomes part of existence, and its development replaces the development of commerce. In those days of chronic war it was one of the nice points of the Spartan theory that the Spartan army was not to employ its time in giving any enemy battle experience to aid them in future fights with Spartans. They planned to either exterminate them or, at least, to avoid engaging the same enemy too often. That was a great piece of business of the legitimate system of any branch of commerce.

When a nation is at peace it loves to see its military forces bravely marching down the street, admiring the pagans and dwelling upon the shame it would be to have any of those men killed. In war time, if the same troops marched the streets with banners any less torn by bullets or with fewer bandages around heads, it would be a dull parade.

Thus may manners and ideals change. Our very glasses now must be of a standard material and of modest design. There was a time in the Scythian promises when a human skull was the only acceptable drinking vessel; the skull from an enemy of your own killing; and your share of the refreshment was limited to the number of skulls you had.

In time of war there is one great comparison that sets the standards of existence: life and death.

MEAN WORDS.

WALT MASON IN "THE TIMES."

It's ill to say unpleasant things about your neighbors; for all your mean and thoughtless fling are edged like swords on sabers. The man you speak about will hear your words, all fraught with malice, and on your dome he'll put an ear, or, trying, bust his gallus. I used to roast my neighbor, Wax, as hard as I was able; I said he wasn't worth the back of a nail him to his stable. Of course he heard the things I said, my observations dizz, and now and then he punched my head, when he was not too busy. I tried of swellings on my brow, that old Bill Wax imparted; he gripped me sorely, and my frau was almost broken-hearted. And so I changed my method, then, and called Bill Wax a dandy; I said he was the best of men, as sweet as sugar candy. Now, kindly, gentle words save wings, as swift, or pretty near it, as ugly words possessing wings, which jar and jolt the spirit. My pleasant words reached old Bill Wax, flew to him, fairly humming; no more he grabe his battle ax when he beheld me coming. I don't indulge in harsh words now, those words which tear like teasles; and Bill comes o'er and milks my cows, when I have got the measles.

QUAKER MEDITATIONS.

FOR ALL WE HAVE—AND ARE.

I. For all we have and are, For all our children's fate, Stand up and meet the war, The Hun is at the gate. Our world has passed away, In wasteland o'erthrown, There's nothing left today But steel and fire and doom.

Though all we knew depart, The old commandments stand, In courage lift up your heart, In strength lift up your hand.

II. Once more we hear the word, That sickened earth of old, "No law except the sword, Unsheathed and uncontrolled, Once more it knits mankind, Once more the nations fight, To meet and break and bind, A crashed and driven fate."

III. Comfort, content, delight, The ages slow-brought pain, They overcome in a slight, Only ourselves remain, To face the naked days, In silent fortitude, Through perils and dismay, Renewed and re-created, Though all we made depart, The old commandments stand, In patience keep your heart, In strength lift up your hand.

IV. No easy hopes or lies Shall bring us to our goal, But from sacrifice Of body, will and soul, There's but one task for all, For each one life to give, Who stands if Freedom live, Who dies if England live! —[Rudyard Kipling in "The Times"]

If it be true that Americans must furnish the fashions, can't we do better than to furnish the military uniforms of Europe? Just the very clothes the women wear under the world's nightgowns?

It is announced that feeling is so high in Germany against England that the Danubian theory has been boycotted because advanced by an Englishman. But will the English be able to banish Richard Wagner from Covent Garden?

Over 3000 years of Babylonian history will be the subject of a lecture delivered in an eastern high-brow in this city tonight. That is a lot of history to be covered in a single night, but we presume they hit the high spots.

For years New Jersey conducted its affairs without imposing a direct tax. Now its finances are in such a condition that such a tax must be imposed. And this is Woodrow Wilson's State, and one of the most "progressive" in the country.

The Panama-Pacific Exposition, because any of the foreign nations will not be presented, is certain to be more permanently American than ever. And that a consummation devoutly to be wished, as the gates will open on time and there will be no postponement on account of the presence of war across the sea.

FOR ALL WE HAVE-AND ARE

I. For all we have and are.

For all our children's fate.

Stand up and meet the war!

The hum is at the gate.

Our world has passed away.

In wondrous overthrow.

There's nothing left today.

But steel and fire and stone.

Though all we knew depart.

The old commandments stand.

In strength lift up your hand.

II. Once more we hear the word.

That sickened earth of old.

No law except the sword.

Unsheathed and uncontrolled.

Once more it knits mankind;

Once more the nations go.

To meet and break and bind.

A crazed and driven fad.

III. Comfort, content, delight.

The ages' slow-bought gain.

They shriveled in a flash!

Only ourselves remain.

To face the naked days.

In silent fortitude.

Through perils and dismay.

Reserved and re-entrained.

Through all we made depart.

The old commandments stand.

The largest Boys' Department in the West.

THE CALL

It is small wonder that our boys' department has the call of the town. For years we have put the best of our gray matter into the selection of our Boys' Clothes. We know which we feature, are the best clothes produced for wear-resisting qualities.

We know, too, that they have the call at the most fashionable metropolitan shops, because of their unusual style effects and exceptional good fit.

Knicker Suits for boys, by SAMPECK and other good makers. All prices, $4 to $17, and all sizes, including those for stout boys. Special values with extra trousers, including our famous $5 special.

Tartan plaids, fancy mixtures and others.

YOUNG MEN'S SUITS $15.00

At that price we offer you a wide range of choice in patterns, fabrics and styles. Other suits at $10, $12.50, and up to $30. Tartan plaids, blue serges, fancy mixtures and others. SAMPECK CLOTHES OF CULTURE in youths' sizes.

common ideal; any ideas or improvements that Jacky or officer may work out will be tested, and adopted if good. And so thoroughly is every man infused with this sense of the game, that cash prizes and monthly bonuses and increased ratings are as nothing compared with the thought of that little piece of old bunting with a black ball in the center, which floats at the masthead of the winning ship in battle practice. That is efficiency in its largest sense.

An Ardent of Elegance. [St. Louis Globe-Democrat:] A Newport woman, apropos of the Duchesse de Gramont's crinoline ball, was talking about Andre de Fouquieres, the arbiter of elegance in Paris.

"M. de Fouquieres is too meticulous in his elegance," she said, with a witty smile. "When a Duke visits him, he advances eighteen steps. When it's a Baron, he advances six steps. When it's an equal, he does not advance at all, and when it is an inferior—an American, say—he actually recoils!" "Oh, yes, M. de Fouquieres is ridiculously meticulous. Once en route from Paris to Trouville, when he was a little boy, a lady gave him a chocolate cigar. "And what will you do with it?" the lady asked. "Little Andre put the end of the chocolate cigar in his mouth and rose. "I'll go into the smoking compartment and eat it," he said."

A Travelling School Teacher. [London Standard:] Australia has a teacher who teaches a school several thousand miles in diameter. He conducts his class in a district of Queensland, where a ranch of 25,000 acres is considered small. In order to gather enough pupils to fill a one-room schoolhouse it would be necessary to draw on the entire country within a radius of 500 miles. So, instead of supporting a number of struggling educational institutions in semi-populated localities, the Australian government engages a travelling schoolmaster, who is an expert motorist and a hardy tourist. For this use they have purchased an automobile, and in his car the travelling teacher goes from farm to farm, making stops of two or three days at each, distributing books and mapping out a course of instruction by which the youngsters can easily teach themselves. Besides the lone tourist the car carries sixty gallons of naphtha, ten gallons of oil, thirty gallons of water and 150 pounds of school books. During his first term the schoolmaster covered more than 4000 miles, and did not see a railroad track for six months.

Our National Playgrounds. [Newark Star:] If the entire territory of Chile were to be made a playground it is easy to realize the sensation which such an announcement would create the world over. A whole country set aside for purposes of recreation! And the amazement of people would be still greater were it proposed to devote the whole

MOVEMENTS IN SOCIETY.

MISS SARAH PATTEN and Frank T. Doherty were married yesterday morning at 9 o'clock at St. Vincent's Church, and immediately following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Charles M. Patten, No. 1814 South Grand avenue, for the bridal party and relatives only, covers being laid for twenty-four.

Rev. Father Joseph Glass officiated, and preceding the service a musical programme was given under the direction of Philip Banbach, organist of the church.

There were two maid of honor—the bride's cousin, Miss Kathryn Nelson of Portland, Or., frocked in a pale pink crepe de chine, wearing a pink tulle veil and carrying an arm shower of pink Chatenay roses and lilies of the valley, and Miss Florence Woodhead, dressed in a pale blue crepe de chine, wearing a pale blue tulle veil and carrying sunburst roses. The two brothers of the bride—James and Alan Patten acted as best men.

The bride was attired in a white carnation, trimmed with a bertha of rose point lace, extending from the waist down the right side. Her tulle veil was trimmed with Duchess lace, and she carried a bridal shower of valley lilies, also a prayer book.

An interesting feature of the wedding was the coronet of orange blossoms, and the strings of pearls with the cross, worn by the bride, which also adorned her gown at her wedding thirty years ago, when she was married in the Plaza Church by Father Peter Verdager.

The church decorations were entirely in white and green, Asparagus plumosus fern, Kentia palms, brake ferns, huckleberry branches, combined with Saunders daisies, forming a canopy overhead, and banded in front and on either side.

The Patten home was also attractive with the same blossoms, the bride's table in the dining-room having at its centerpieces a large mirror, bordered with the daisies and maiden-hair fern, at the outer edge of which were crystal candlesticks, shaded with white tulle.

The young couple have gone on a five weeks' eastern trip, going the middle route, returning over the southern, stopping at the Grand Canyon, also all interesting points along the way. They will first visit the groom's mother, Mrs. Mary Poherty of Woodbine, Md., and before returning will be the guests of Lieut. and Mrs. Thomas Speer, who are located at Ft. Banks, Mass.

Upon their return Mr. and Mrs. Doherty will make their home in this city. The bride, who has been widely entertained, is a graduate of both the Los Angeles and Polytechnic High schools, and of the U.S.C. college of law, taking her master's degree in 1912. She is a popular member of the Phi Delta Kappa Fraternity and of the Zeta Tau Alpha sorority.

To Wed.
Saturday at noon Miss Lucetta M. Hayes of No. 1563 West Fifth street will become the bride of Lewis E. Whithead, the service taking place at the Church of the Angels, Garvanza. The bride-elect, whose father is a Federal officer in Arizona, is a graduate of both the Pace School for Girls and the State Conservatory of Music in Arizona. Mr. Whithead is deputy district attorney of this city and a member of both the Pacific Madre and Union League clubs of Los Angeles. Miss Lucetta Richardson will assist as maid of honor, while Walter A. Sharp will be best man. A honeymoon outing at Coronado will be enjoyed and later the young people will make their home in this city.

In New York.
Mrs. W. L. Silverwood, with Mr. and Mrs. C. B. Bannister of Los Angeles, arrived from Europe on the S. S. Arabic, and are stopping at the Wolcott, New York City.

Eastern Outing Ends.
Miss Nora B. Limberg of No. 216 South Reno street, who has been spending the summer with her mother in Butler, Pa., has returned to Los Angeles.

Visiting Here.
Miss Mary J. Johnston, who for years has had charge of the musical department of St. Mary's College, in in harmony with the divine programme, is now calling, choosing and proving a "little flock" of believers, justified through faith in His blood. These are to be made perfect through suffering, through sacrifice, by walking in the Master's footsteps. They have the promise that if they suffer with Him they shall also reign with Him. This is a gospel of healing for the world, when Messiah's kingdom shall have come; but for the church it tells of an opportunity of laying down their lives in sacrifice. Gospel means good tidings. There can be no thought of eternal torment in the gospel.

The members of the local branch of the International Bible Students' Association have secured the Shrine Auditorium for Friday evening at 8 o'clock and have invited the pastor to speak to the public on the topic, "Distress of Nations With Perplexity." All expenses have been provided and there will be no charge to the public and no collections. This is the rule wherever Pastor Russell speaks. Dallas, has returned to this city, and is now the guest of Mrs. L. L. Bush of No. 216 South Reno street.

Pleasant Outing.
Mr. and Mrs. Warren E. Rollins of San Gabriel and Miss Elizabeth Gill of Berkeley; Mr. Swinnerton and Prof. H. R. Mayer of Chicago University, who have been traveling in Arizona, are now in New Mexico. Mrs. Rollins will be accompanied home by Miss Gill, who will remain as her guest.

Married Yesterday.
Miss Bertha Smiley, daughter of Mrs. Elizabeth Smiley of No. 5353 Abbott place, became the bride last evening of J. Raymond Hunt, the service having been solemnized by the Rev. Dr. Gates in the Highland Park Presbyterian Church. The bride, who was attired in pink girdles and a tulle veil and carried a shower of bride roses and valley lilies. Mrs. Mary Spring, the matron of honor, and the three bridesmaids, Misses Lou Caskey, Mabel Sharp and Mabel Henry, were attired alike in white with tulle veils and pink girdles and Dutch caps. They carried arm clusters of pink roses. Mr. McDowell stood with Mr. Hunt as best man and the ushers were Messrs. Spring, Blount and Gooding. Little Margaret Edwards carried a basket of rose petals, which she scattered on the bride as she passed. After a honeymoon trip Mr. and Mrs. Hunt will reside on the Maple ranch, near Venice.

Have Returned.
Mr. and Mrs. Bruce Stevenson of No. 1254 Eiden avenue have returned from a month's outing at Shasta and Scott Valley.

PASTOR RUSSELL HERE.
Will Speak Tonight at the Shrine Auditorium on Subject, "Distress of Nations."
Pastor Russell arrived in Los Angeles yesterday morning from San Diego, which was a part of his itinerary in the cross-continent trip from Brooklyn, where he has his headquarters in the Brooklyn Tabernacle, made famous by Rev. T. DeWitt Talmadge. Pastor Russell is also pastor of the London Tabernacle and visits his London friends once or twice a year.

The doctrine which he stands for has attracted wide attention. They are in opposition to much that is set forth as the teachings of the Bible by "orthodox." They present a milder view of God and the fate of the "non-elect" than do most of the creeds.

When questioned respecting what is "the gospel," the pastor answered: "The gospel is a message to the effect that God proposes to bless the world through the seed of Abraham, and that Jesus glorified in that spiritual seed. It is a message respecting His kingdom which shall shortly be inaugurated with power and great glory for the blessing of Adam and all his race with human restitution, giving to all fullest opportunity of return to the Heavenly Father's love, through the merit of the great sacrifice accomplished at Calvary. It is a message, too, that the Redeemer, before taking the throne of His glory,

Europe's Losses Our Gains, He Thinks.

Col. J. B. Lankershim, who returned from the Old World war zone yesterday. He believes America will learn a helpful lesson in self-reliance as a result of the mighty continental struggle.

WARS TEACH US SELF-RELIANCE.
COL. LANKERSHIM POINTS OUT AMERICA'S BENEFITS.

Capitalist Returns from Three Months Abroad, Convinced That Europe's Loss in Conflict Will Be America's Gain—Expects Great Rush of Immigration Soon.

Observations abroad and at home since the outbreak of the European wars have convinced Col. J. B. Lankershim, capitalist, who returned yesterday from France, that the conflicts will result in America learning a helpful lesson in self-reliance. Col. Lankershim was in Europe three months and experienced difficulties and hardships in obtaining passage for home.

"It is not our desire, of course, to profit by the misfortunes of others," Col. Lankershim said yesterday afternoon in the office of Attorney John W. Mitchell in the Lankershim building. "It is evident, however, that the wars which are devastating Europe will greatly benefit our country commercially."

"With the ravages of European trade cut off America will learn that practically everything which she has heretofore obtained exclusively in Europe can be produced in this country. This lesson, which we should have learned long ago, will have a most beneficial effect."

"We are learning just now how independent we can be of the rest of the world. Many new industries will be founded and new mineral resources developed as a result of the new situation."

Already the nations of Europe are calling upon America for supplies. Practically every able-bodied man in England, France, Germany and Austria is at war. The harvest is neglected and the factories are closed. Only women and children and old men are left to tend the looms and the mills. "After the close of the wars there will be a great rush of immigration to the United States by people who are tired of living under the present conditions in Europe, and wish to dwell in the land of peace."

"Europe will not be able to recover and entertain tourists for several years. This condition will benefit the Pacific Coast will be benefited by the war situation perhaps more than any other section of the country."

Col. Lankershim was in Geneva when war was declared. He and several hundred other Americans were detained in the city for ten days.

"I was one of several hundred American tourists who went from Geneva to Paris on a military train. The train was crowded with soldiers and their families. I saw great numbers of French troops hurrying to the front. They appeared to be in high spirits and eager for a fight. After a week's delay in Paris, I managed to get to Havre, where I obtained passage on the Espagne, a new French liner."

"About 1600 Americans were on board ship. The ship was crowded and the ship had been taken off for military duty and she was manned with an inferior crew. The men suffered from lack of food, but the fare was not at all luxurious."

HANG ON BARRED WIRE.
Two Patrolmen Snagged While Traveling in an Auto on Strange Road in Fog.
Caught at the throat by a barbed wire as they were riding in an automobile near Huntington Beach early yesterday morning, G. B. Fisher and R. W. Lott, Los Angeles patrolmen, suffered identical injuries from their seats by the wire, the officers' throats were ripped open by the sharp barbs.

Lott was accompanying Fisher on a visit to the latter's relatives at Anaheim. They lost their way and drove into a blind road. Fog obscured the fence into which they drove. Each officer was forced to a precipitous fall. Fisher was released from the City Jail a few days ago after serving a ninety-day sentence. He was found guilty of furnishing morphine to another physician and was given a straight life sentence, the first in the history of the State, by Judge Chambers. The case went to the Superior Court on appeal, where the judgment of the lower court was sustained.

Don't fear to call a girl dear to her face if she wears your engagement ring. The average girl, if she is sensible, knows that ten to one you'll be mitering it under your breath after you are married.

It isn't wise to be too hard in speaking of mothers-in-law, or you will start in married life with an enemy. Don't fear to call a girl dear to her face if she wears your engagement ring. The average girl, if she is sensible, knows that ten to one you'll be mitering it under your breath after you are married.

Don't give a girl to understand that you own a fine motor car, when, in fact, your only interest in one may be your monthly pay as chauffeur. Don't tell her that you have great expectations from an old uncle who wishes to make you his heir, putting his age all over her. She has probably heard dozens of fellows tell the same story. Never throw out the hint that there are a lot of girls who are setting their caps for you, when, in truth, there isn't a girl in town but asks her what she can see in you to cause her to waste her time entertaining you.

Don't make a chum of her brother; that would destroy any hope you may have of winning her. Never tell her that you are the poetry of grace on the dancing floor, when you know you couldn't dance to save your life if she were to challenge you to go to a few waltzes with her. You'd have to get out of it by attempting the hesitation. Don't boast that all you have to do is to propose marriage to her and she is yours. There may be other Richmonds in the field that you know nothing about—rivals, in other words, who are the self-made boys.

Don't try to cut out some other fellow, for the game isn't worth the candle that's won by trickery. Don't be too sure of yourself. You might find a suit on hand for heart balm. If you're lucky enough to get a nice girl for a sweetheart, don't take too long in making up your mind about proposing. For while you are dilly-dallying she may be getting a better offer.

LOS ANGELES UNITED FASHION SHOW THURSDAY FRIDAY SATURDAY 24 25 26 1914

The official Fashion Show poster, Approved for the big fall display which will begin on the 24th but will last three days.

The Fashion Show.

LOS ANGELES GOWNS FOR ALL LOS ANGELES WOMEN.

AMERICAN styles, by American modistes for Los Angeles women, is the central idea of the Fashion Show promoters this fall. Dates for the big display are announced as September 24, 25 and 26 on the striking poster in vivid, green, yellow, black and red, which will make its appearance in the windows of the downtown stores today.

All of the Broadway and Spring-street merchants have agreed to do their utmost in presenting American-made products and styles created in this country, realizing that this opportunity of years to show the signs of this country are as clever as those of Paris, London, Berlin, and that it is not enough to import either material or style. According to present plans of the merchants, the coming fashion materials of showy coloring will predominate in the displays. The poster, in all its striking fineness, grapes and drops, given a prominent place, as well as evening gowns being shown that predominate being.

Teachers and Sex. [Chicago News:] Loose generalization is the bane of clear thinking. Thus the question as to whether women teachers tend to make boys effeminate is too broad to be dealt with properly. So much depends upon the individual.

Boys undoubtedly need an atmosphere of authority and virility. Strength, however, should never be allowed to degenerate into roughness and coarseness of environment. No man is complete who has not gentleness, courtesy, tact and kindness. These are not merely feminine qualities. They should be common possessions of both sexes. The boy in school should find his teacher possessed of them.

It does not so much matter whether the instructor of youth be a man or a woman, provided he or she is, in the true sense of that carefully used word, a teacher. It is, of course, certain that many persons who endeavor to teach the young ought to be in some other business.

The right kind of man teacher is presumably the best teacher for boys, but the right kind of a teacher is infinitely better for a girl than a man teacher who is not the right kind.

After this is said what amount to? Simply that decent, not sex, makes the successful teacher of boys or girls.

A Cocker Story. [Pittsburgh Gazette Times:] Clarence W. Bowers, employed in construction of an ice house at lumbus, O., fell from the roof and landed on a pile of lumber, breaking his back and fracturing his spine.

BEAVERS TAKE HOT CONTEST.

Shove Over Three Tallies in
the Tenth.
Blows by Fisher and Doane
Tie It in Ninth.
McCredie Resorts to Pair of Pitchers.

BY HARRY A. WILLIAMS.
And now comes another tale
and a fresh installment of salty tears trickling off the typewriter. This constant trickling has now been in progress for two days, and if it keeps up much longer I shall be compelled to wear gum boots while sitting at my well-known desk.

The battling Beavers continued their blind rush into the majestic isolation of a long lead by whaling Papa's Athletics, 7 to 4, and when last seen were about to disappear from view over the distant horizon.

But it took them ten innings to do it. Those who can get any consolation out of this are perfectly welcome to help themselves.

The lamentable affair was witnessed by a slim crowd, there being only one fat person present besides Hen Berry.

THE IRON FIST.
It always is painful to get licked, but the operation was especially painful yesterday because Papa's Athletics seemed to have the game clamped up to the ninth inning.

At that point their hopes and aspirations were unexpectedly squashed under the cast-iron fist of Mr. McCredie.
Mac uses this fist only on special occasions. There was some more squashing and three Portland runs in
the tenth.

The Angels were leading in a calm and collected manner, and by a score of 4 to 3, when the ninth dawned serenely in the mellow glow of a September sunset.

Then all of a sudden, Great Gus up and smashed a double to left center that left Rube Ellis plowing a furrow with his handsome nose. Doane then poked a single into the gloaming of left field, and Great Gus tied the score. The Angels were unable to cause even a slight tremor in their half, and the referee ordered the teams to fight another round.

AWFUL UMP.
Added to the well-known horrors of war was one of Jack McCarthy's justly celebrated decisions in the tenth. He called Ty Lober safe on a grounder to Johnson, which appeared to be the wrong guess. Ty was the first man up. Given this unexpected encouragement the visiting guys lit into Poll Peritt and smeared his stuff around the plate in a loud and loathsome manner.

Frank Eastley, the same geek who pitched for San Francisco in 1910, and who had relieved the troubled Martinioli as early as the fourth inning, sacrificed Ty to second. Bancroft boldly hit to left, and Ty took third. Derrick bounded out a high one that baffled even Peritt, who is a regular bird at going into the air after them. Lober, who had this time been the pitcher, singled.

Great Gus slammed the pill over second.
Johnson made a dandy stop, but there was no chance for him to get any of the numerous runners.
Bancroft counted on this unfortunate lick. Rodgers rammed home, and Ryan slammed a free and easy single to right. Wolter, inhaled Doane's long and malicious fly for the third out.

MEEK'S DOUBLE.
In the home hair of the tenth a perfectly good double by Meek was allowed to go to waste. Little Eva, batting for Peritt, planted the ball out between Ryan and Doane, a sudden burst of speed landing him at second. Moore then went in and stole third for Meek. Wolter grounded to Derrick. Hider, who had been grounded to third by devious methods and came home when Boles threw the defenseless ball into left field.

ANGELS GET BURY.
Our boys suddenly bulged to the fore with three tallies in the third.
Fue singled, the ball striking Lober on his bunions when he tried to scoop
it. Boles bounced the ball in front of the plate and beat it out when Great Gus sat down with force and suddenness. Peritt sacrificed. Martinioli showed himself to be a man of guile by walking Wolter. Metzger forced Wolter. Page scoring, Metzger stole second, Margaret hit to left, counting Boles and Metzger, and took second on the throw-in. Hart tried to score on Abstein's single to Der-

TWO BUM UMPIRES ARE TOO MANY SAYS H. BERRY.

HENRY BERRY, president of the Los Angeles Baseball Club, is in favor of returning to the old way of using but one umpire unless there is a sudden change for the better in the behavior of the arbiters.
After studying the workings of the double system he has come to regard it as a failure and a needless extravagance.
"Our two last defeats by Portland can be traced directly to two bad decisions at critical times," declared Berry last night. "The umpiring the last few weeks has been the poorest ever seen on the Coast, and is by far worse than when we had the single system. The way things are going, the Angels will be put out of the race by bad umpiring. The double system is proving a farce, and I would vote tomorrow to abolish it."
"Where there are two men on the job they divide the responsibility, and the result is that neither does his best work. Furthermore, the players are not permitted to appeal from one umpire to the other, which is contrary to the spirit of the double system. The umpires are making the dual system an institution for mutual protection.
"President Baum should either shake his staff into action, or cut it in half."

METHODISTS HOLD FIRST SCRIMMAGE OF SEASON.

BY HOWARD W. ANGUS.

TROJANS crashed together yesterday afternoon at Bovard Field in the first American game scrimmage that U.S.C. has had in three years. Late in the afternoon, when the field was all shadow, Coach Glaze chose two lines, led them off to a corner of the field and set them ramping each other. There was only one runner with the ball, and he had no interference.

He would plunge at the line or dart for the end while the men scurried and piled up. Always he fell in a heap, locked in the visible grip of a tackler. Sometimes he had the pleasure of chewing and while a pile tried to steam-roll him.

GLAZE DIRECTS.
Coach Glaze stood back of the defensive line, Assistant Coach Irvine handling the offensive line. Coach Glaze would signal the men with the ball where to run and then show the tacklers why they did not bust through and smear him before he was started.

It was a short scrimmage—not over fifteen minutes long. But it gave the players their first taste of the real article in American football.

STARS PRESENT.
The men who made themselves conspicuous were Bailey, Taylor, Lucas and Hansen. They showed what is known the length and the breadth of the country as "the goods."

The rest of the practice was the same as in past days—signal practice, running down on punts, tackling the dummy.
How Glaze is drilling the forward pass into those Trojans!
Up and down the field they run,
forward pass following foot pass.
He keeps them incessantly at it. The improvement is startling. The ball is no longer bounding off their chests

JACK NEVILLE WAS BEATEN.

Harry K. Davis of Portland
Lowers His Colors.
French of Annandale Loses to Schmidt.
Southern Women Win Plaudits on Links.

BY ALMA WHITAKER.
[BY DIRECT WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.]
DEL MONTE, Sept. 10.—Jack Neville, twice Pacific Coast champion, was defeated by Harry K. Davis of Portland, in the thirty-six-hole semifinals today by 1 up. It was a wonderful match in which every inch of the way was contested. Neville was actually 4 up at one time in the morning round, but Davis won the sixteenth, halved punch bowl and won the eighteenth, reducing Neville's lead to 2 up at the end of the first eighteen holes.

This is the second time this year that Davis has defeated the young Coast hero—for he wrested the northern championship from him at Presidio in the spring.

It was a veritable contest of the giants, for both players are tall and young and strong—so much so that they spare their iron shots most of the time, actually find it necessary to restrain their strength and use maimie niblicks where lesser players would take a brassie or an iron. This was so at the second of the afternoon round when they both had 200-yard drives less than ten feet apart and both holed on the par in 4.

TOUGH LUCK.
But perhaps the first hole was the most tantalizing for Neville. Both were on the green in two, dead for hoon, while Neville knocked his opponent's ball in the hole and left his own on the edge. Davis went out thirty-four in the afternoon round and stood 1 up at the turn. The eighth hole is always good for Davis, and it was there that a subtle change seemed to take place when he won it in three to Neville's five. Still, that did not prevent them both missing short putts on the ninth.

After that, Davis became canny.
At the tenth he laid flat on his tummy to study his putt. But there was nothing spectacular until they came to the sixteenth, when he holed a long putt on that treacherous green. He made the first round in 72, the second in 68 to win. But in a general way, Neville showed the best in putting and at the thirteenth he holed what was practically an approach shot from way off the green.

FRENCH WAS GAME.
The Schmidt-French match was another marvel. A. B. French, of Annandale, was only beaten by 2 up and in thirty-five in the morning and was 1 up at the turn and had been 2 up at the seventh. He played his most brilliant game and surprised his friends by keeping it up even after he had been 4 down—a state of affairs that usually depresses him beyond repair. Not this time, for he won four holes in succession in the second round, the tenth, twelfth, thirteenth and fourteenth, halving the eleventh, reducing Schmidt's lead to but 1 up.
Those who know their French with his burn-headed temper, amenable will realize what a sensation this caused. When he finished the first eighteen all square southern hopes ran high for, as French explained, playing with Schmidt is largely a case of watching an exhibition of wonderful putting.

Schmidt and Davis meet tomorrow in the finals, the biggest and the smallest men, physically, in the tournament.

In the men's Del Monte cup, two southerners have achieved glory.
Sumner P. Hunt of the Los Angeles Club beat Conde Jones of the Mid-dick by 3 and 2, and Dr. Guy Cochrane defeated William H. Crocker by 3 and 1. So we shall bring some worth-while trophies south this year in any case.

THE WOMEN.
The women players had some amazing matches wherein the southern players, Mrs. Henry van Dyke of Annandale defeated the San Francisco crack player, Mrs. T. H. Baker, by 3 up. She has made a tremendous advance in her golfing personally and goofily, and after this feat, is the cynosure of all eyes. She is considered a very probable possibility for the championship. Miss Warner defeated Mrs. Malcolm Whitman (Jenne Crocker) by 4 and 3 and meets Mrs. van Dyke tomorrow. We observed that though Mrs. Warner is petite, she equaled Miss Warner's

SAN DIEGO MAN SHOOT WELL.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
DAYTON (O.) Sept. 10.—The winner of the grand American handicap shoot, which began here today, will not be known until tomorrow. At the close of the day's shooting, J.
P. Couss, Jr. of San Diego, Cal., and Wyford Henderson of Lexington, Ky., were high men in the event. The former ran through eighty of his 100 targets with but one miss, while the latter had a perfect score of sixty.
Though Couss and Henderson appear to have the best chance to win, several other shooters turned in good cards. S. C. Foster of Mason City, Iowa, and O. P. Goodie of Hinsdale, Ill., lost only two targets out of sixty. Samuel Leever of Glenview, O., P.
S. Wright of Buffalo, N. Y., and S.
Huntley of Vancouver, Wash., held scores of fifty-seven out of sixty.

Venue Game. PINCH HITTERS WIN FOR HAP.

Run Is Slipped Over in Extra Inning.

Game Went This Way and That Way.

Speck Harkness Had a Wild Inning.

(BY DESK WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
SAN FRANCISCO, Sept. 10.—With a tenth-inning wind-up to a season that had gone first one way and then another from start to finish, the Venetians whipped over a run which put the finishing touches on the Mission, 4 to 3. It was a case of fill-in batters turning the trick for the southrons.

With one down and Hesp on second, after a slashing two-bagger to center field, Johnny Kane was sent in as pinch-hitter for Wilhoit. The last that Kane could do was an infield out that advanced Hesp to third. Rowdy Elliott, sent to the front instead of Melan, uncorked a single to right field and Hesp was around the cushions. The run was registered off Stanley, who had followed in behind Stroud when the latter had shown signs of weakening.

It was an afternoon of extra base hits that the two clubs put in at Ewing Field. Three triples and two doubles were annexed by the Missions, while one two-bagger and a three-bagger for Hesp accounted for the extra base hits of the visitors.

Speck Harkness was wild in the first inning and three walks and Shin's triple gave the Missions two runs. Young for the Wolves was off form, and his error in the second helped the Tigers to their first run. Again in the third, he cut loose a bad throw to the plate to head off a tally, that accounted for two more scores. The Wolvertians tied the score in the sixth but could do no more run-gathering.

The score:

	A	R	E	R	P	O	A	E
Mission	4	1	1	1	1	1	1	1
Wolvertians	3	1	1	1	1	1	1	1
Total	7	2	2	2	2	2	2	2

CHICAGO, Sept. 10.—Jack Johnson, negro pugilist, will face the Federal court here and receive his sentence for violation of the Mann act of which he was convicted. This is the report that is current in the Federal building today following receipt of a cablegram from London saying that the negro pugilist had left there en route for Chicago to face his sentence. It is declared that the pugilist went to London following several narrow escapes in Paris, and that he was seen in a steamship office purchasing transatlantic transportation.

WINTER RACING IS ASSURED.

(BY DESK WIRE—EXCLUSIVE DISPATCH.)
NEW ORLEANS, Sept. 10.—When Robert C. Brien of Nashville, Tenn., representing the Kentucky as well as breeders from other sections of the country, announced to the Arrangement Committee for a winter season of racing in New Orleans today, that his cohorts would give $25,000 towards making the meet a success the winter race meet was practically assured. A total of $25,000 has been subscribed, but local men were despairing lest they could not raise another $15,000. Brien's offer did away with all their worry and they decided to start the meet on January 1, and continue it until Mardi Gras day. Purses will be awarded in each of the six races daily, a feature event being run once a week. Admission will be $1.

WALBRIDGE BEATEN
AT BILLIARDS.

Pierson defeated Walbridge last night in the three-session billiard tournament being played at the Brunswick parlors. The score was 47 to 46. In Walbridge's favor, but he was handicapped five balls. The match lasted 108 innings. Pierson's high run was four; Walbridge's three. Kearne and Randall, both playing at 45, will meet tonight.

GRIFFIN WINS TITLE.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
BUFFALO (N. Y.), Sept. 10.—C. J. Griffin of San Francisco, United States clay court tennis champion, won the Great Lakes lawn tennis championship and here today from R. N. Sever of Boston, the titleholder. The score was 6-4, 5-7, 6-3, 6-1. Griffin plays Sever tomorrow, challenging him as holder of the New York championship.

NATIONAL LEAGUE BOSTON TAKES DOUBLE-HEADER.

(BY A. P. NIGHT WIRE.)
BOSTON, Sept. 10.—By winning both games of today's double-header from Philadelphia, 3 to 0 and 7 to 2, Boston increased its lead in the National League race by one full game as New York divided with Brooklyn. Rudolph and James had the heavy-hitting Philadelphia players always in hand. Evers was removed from the first game by Empire Eason and Whitted took his place for the day.

COMPLETE STATISTICS OF STALLINGS' YOUNG BRAVES

BOSTON BRAVES, possible National League champions, are in slight danger of being Ostrander, for the oldest member of the team that is causing the Giants so much anguish is only 35. The veteran Brave is Fred Mitchell and he never plays, his duty being to warm up and instruct young pitchers. The average age of the Braves is a trifle over 25 years, the only man past the 30 mark being Mitchell, who is 35; Otto Hess, who will be 34 when the next world's series is run off, and Johnny Evers, who was 31, July 21 last. The baby of the team is Paul Strand. He will not reach his majority until December 19, 1915.

All of the Braves save one were born in the United States. The foreign born athlete is Otto Hess, Bernese, Switzerland, is where the southpaw first saw the light of day. Manager Stallings, now 46 years old, is a native of Augusta, Ga., while Secretary Nickerson, who was 44 on his last birthday, is the only Boston-born man connected with the outfit. Two of the Braves are Bay Staters, Maranville having been born in Springfield and Mitchell in Cambridge. Of the other players, four came from New York, two from Pennsylvania, two from Ohio, two from Texas, two from California and one each from South Carolina, Maryland, North Carolina, Tennessee, Louisiana, Washington, Nebraska, New Hampshire and Rhode Island. Ten of Stallings' players are easterners, six are westerners and seven are southerners. More information about them will be found below:

SUMMARY OF THE DAY.

No responsibility has been fixed for the faulty work on the concrete base for paving in the Third-street tunnel, but official tests of the cement are to be made at once.

The Council decided yesterday to furnish $3500 a month to the Aqueduct Power Bureau and to practice the most rigid economy in all other departments to secure these funds.

Further consideration of the proposed Western-avenue entrance to Griffith Park has been postponed by the City Council until December 31, in order to allow the various factions to get together on a compromise.

Announcement was made at the City Hall yesterday that the Pacific Electric and Los Angeles Railway Corporation have secured the lands necessary for the construction of an overhead crossing at Vernon avenue and Long Beach avenue on the cross-town line.

A Judge severely censured a man who sought to break his father's will because he provided for his housekeeper with whom it is alleged that he was unduly familiar. He does not even know his own daughters.

At the City Hall.

TUNNEL DELAY PROVOKES IRE.

BUT RESPONSIBILITY IS NOT FIXED BY CITY.

That Present Situation "Just Happened to Happen" Is About the City of Investigation So Far. Tests of Cement Will Be Made Immediately by Officials.

Although Commissioner O'Brien of the Board of Public Works suggested to the board yesterday that City Engineer Hamlin should be given an opportunity to resign, developments later in the day indicate that the latter will survive the present difficulties over the delay in completing the paving in the Third-street tunnel, as he has passed through other crises in his office.

That the situation wherein there must be weeks more of delay in the opening of the tunnel to vehicle traffic, "just happened to happen" appears to be about the gist of the investigation to date.

One contention is that the earth upon which the concrete was laid is responsible; that the earth is of natural "mud" churning up and down and thus preventing the proper setting of the cement, and breaking the bond in portions that had already begun to set.

Another contention is that a batch of poor cement was worked through, despite the care exercised in official tests. It was shown yesterday that, while the requirements called for the use of 414 barrels of cement, the daily reports of the inspector show there were actually used 415 1/2 barrels.

Official tests of the cement in the section that is being torn out will be made at once. Just what other steps will be taken to fix the responsibility for the serious delay in the tunnel's opening to traffic are not definitely determined. Commissioner O'Brien's suggestion to the other members of the Board of Public Works yesterday that City Engineer Hamlin be given an opportunity to resign brought no definite action. President Handley later in the day made a decided stand in favor of the City Engineer, declaring that, in his opinion, the tunnel troubles were not chargeable to any dereliction on the part of Mr. Hamlin.

John Luckenbach, a property owner in the immediate vicinity of the tunnel, and J. H. Levering, an engineer representing other property owners, appeared before the board yesterday morning to enter vigorous protests against the conditions that have made more delay in the tunnel opening.

"It seems to me that it is getting high time for a change in the engineering department in the interests of general efficiency. If we are getting green cement on this work it certainly is the fault of the City Engineer's office. Our properties are being injured and we are losing money by what I unhesitatingly call inefficiency of the engineering department," said Mr. Luckenbach.

Mr. Levering presented the theory of shifting earth as the probable cause of the concrete not binding. He stated that when the tunnel was first opened it was necessary for the roadway to be unpaved for more than two months in order that it might be packed down by vehicle travel sufficiently to hold a concrete coating. His theory is that there is an unusual pressure on the arch and that this causes displacements of the earth; that the tunnel walls are gradually moving out of position and that the walls are certain to disintegrate.

POWER PROJECT MONEY. RIGID ECONOMY ELSEWHERE. The city will rake and scrape to supply the aqueduct power bureau $3500 per month to keep the organization intact and carry on as much work as is possible with the means at command. This was the decision of the members of the City Council, sitting as a committee of the whole, yesterday.

This money is to be secured by practicing the most rigid economy in every other municipal line. The policy was laid down at this meeting. Not a cent is to be appropriated for other purposes that can absolutely be avoided; various pet projects that were "in the air" will meet a hopeless fate—there is no chance under the present situation. The aqueduct power project is like a hungry Oliver Twist, always crying for "more."

Chief Electrical Engineer Scattergood and Special Counsel Mathews appeared before the Council members and urged that the organization should be held intact in order to conserve the best interests of the city.

President Whiffen presented figures showing the dire straits in which the city is placed for funds during the "dry" months preceding the receiving of payments on taxes, and then followed the decision to curtail every possible expense so as to supply the needs of the aqueduct power project.

GAS PLANT APPRAISAL. CONFERENCE PERFECTS PLANS. A conference was held yesterday afternoon between City Attorney Stephens, Chief Engineer Mulholland and Roderick Mackay, chief mechanical constructor of the Los Angeles aqueduct, regarding plans for making a valuation of the plant of the Los Angels Gas and Electric Corporation for use of the city in litigation over gas rates.

Mr. Mackay was instructed to perfect his organization and he will submit his lists today. The City Council will be asked at once to provide for the employment of the men desired. Mr. Mackay will have direct supervision of the work, and Mr. Mulholland will lend such assistance as he can find time from his other duties.

FOLD WITH CARE. INSTRUCTIONS ON TOWELS.

Economy is the watchword at the City Hall, and therewith has been found a new employment for members of the City Council. Upon them devolves the duty of instructing the municipal employees as to just how the newly-instituted paper towels must be folded in order to absorb the most moisture, thereby saving the city exchequer extra outlay of funds for paper.

Council sessions convene at 9 o'clock each morning. Sometimes they last only one hour. The Councilmen will then be at liberty to give instructions in paper folding.

Abolishing the old-fashioned roller towels at the City Hall has been the subject of more or less contention. The municipal employees do not take kindly to having to use the paper squares of soft paper in their ablutions. The cost of the paper proves to be far in excess of the old linen, and as a result the Council yesterday adopted a report of the Supply Committee instructing the Board of Public Works to have employees be sure to fold the paper before using.

The board yesterday issued its formal instructions, closing them with this paragraph: "Should there be any doubt as to the proper manner in which these towels shall be folded, the City Council, or the purchasing agent, will upon your application be pleased to illustrate the same."

Flood Damage Claims. Three more claims for damages done by the flood waters of the Arroyo Seco last spring were filed with the City Clerk yesterday. This makes about claims now filed with the city, several of which are in the hands of the City Attorney.

Ira A. and Edith M. Stone ask for $22,500 for loss of household goods and clothing, etc., at No. 344 East Avenue 43. McCord & Stone want $18,130 for damages to their grocery stock and other property at No. 342 East Avenue 43, and Herman Bornstein demands $117,045.70 for damage to lots and a two-story frame building, stores and apartments, on the same avenue.

Overhead Crossing. An important announcement to many residents of Los Angeles was made yesterday by Commissioner Rogers, chairman of the Public Utilities Committee. He stated that the Los Angeles Railway Corporation and the Pacific Electric Company have succeeded in acquiring the lands required for continuing the overhead crossing for the Vernon-avenue cross-town car line at the four-track lines of the Pacific Electric on Long Beach avenue. It is understood that the provide for the opening of a new portion of the street, running around the proposed elevated crossing.

Griffith Park Entrance. The Public Works Committee of the Council yesterday recommended that further consideration of the project of making a Western-avenue entrance into Griffith Park be postponed until December 31, in order to allow time for the various factions to reach a compromise proposition.

Interested property owners were before the committee, and it developed that there is decided opposition to the recent proposal of the City Engineer to the opening. Objection was particularly raised against the city allowing Mr. Mead $2500 for attorney's and expert witness fees in the condemnation proceedings, which was made a provision of his plan to dedicate a street opening to the park.

City Hall Briefs. The City Council yesterday granted to President Whiffen thirty days leave of absence. He will leave next week for his former home in Wisconsin.

Steps were taken by the City Council yesterday to legalize existing tracks of the Pacific Electric Company on Eighth street, near Main street.

Hereafter all applicants for transfers of liquor permits will have to deposit with the Police Commission $25 for the purpose of defraying expenses of checking petitions, making investigations, etc. Heretofore only this deposit was required of applicants for new permits.

Hereafter all applicants for transfers of liquor permits will have to deposit with the Police Commission $25 for the purpose of defraying expenses of checking petitions, making investigations, etc. Heretofore only this deposit was required of applicants for new permits.

The plan proposed by Miss Madeline F. White, the only woman on the list of each character mentioned in the liquor ordinance be permitted in each block within the liquor zone hereafter, was approved by the City Council yesterday, and the City Attorney was instructed to prepare the ordinance making this provision. Liquor establishments now located will not come under this rule.

When protest from the Church Federation against any extension of the liquor zone was presented before the City Council yesterday, Councilman Brown, chairman of the Public Safety Committee, stated: "This committee will seriously protest against any extension of the liquor zone."

Snowden also called attention to the fact that drunken men are served liquor at saloons, and said that he could give several direct instances coming within his own knowledge. He suggested that the Police Commission be required to look into this situation. Mr. Snowden declared that some saloons in Los Angeles would sell booze to a plan as long as he was able to stand up and drink it.

The Pico-to-the-Sea Association yesterday filed a petition to the City Council, asking that the name of Pico street from Main street to the western city limits be changed to Pico boulevard.

Property owners on Fourteenth street, San Pedro, want the city to replace its own street car tracks torn out in widening the roadway. They indicated before the City Council that if the city would do this they would undertake to replace the tracks of a five-foot strip of property on each side of the street for the purpose of widening the roadway. The subject was continued for one week.

The police and fire departments are authorized by the action of the City Council yesterday to sell all horses no longer of use in the work of these departments.

NOTHING TO SAY. C. Hernandez was arrested yesterday afternoon by Deputy Sheriff Fox charged with being a participant in the murder of Manuel Arroyo and Roberto Martinez, who were killed in a gun and knife fight at Montebello early last week.

Hernandez was taken to the County Jail, but refused to talk. The deputies are searching for Victor Arroyo, brother of Manuel Arroyo. He is wanted as a witness.

DOESN'T KNOW HIS DAUGHTERS.

MAN WHO WOULD BREAK FATHER'S WILL CENSURED.

Judge Says If His Parent and Housekeeper Were Unduly Friendly That He Did the Right Thing in Providing for Her Welfare at His Death.

Bert D. Carle, who failed to break the will of his father, O. C. Carle, who had left the bulk of his $22,000 estate to his housekeeper, Mrs. Ray Burgess, was rebuked by Judge Morrison in the trial of the contest yesterday in denying a nonsuit. Toward the close of the sensational case it was shown that H. D. Carle did not know his own daughters, Miss Louise and Miss Genevieve Carle, who have been living with their father. Furthermore, it appeared that he did not show any desire to make their acquaintance.

The Misses Carle opposed the petition of their father to set aside the probate of the will of their grandfather.

Judge Morrison advised a compromise. He told Mr. Carle that, if he would not accept a reasonable settlement, the court would instruct the jury to find against his petition. Mr. Carle agreed to accept $100 in settlement, and to waive his right to appeal.

Under the terms of the will Mr. Burgess will have the use of the Carle family residence on West Twenty-first street during her lifetime. She will also receive the income from a block of Alameda street property owned by the late Mr. Burgess.

B. D. Carle, in his petition, alleged that Mrs. Burgess had lived in undue intimacy with their father. He alleged that she used her wiles and importuned the old man to leave her his estate.

"Even if the charge is true," declared Judge Morrison, "it is all the more reason why he should provide for her."

The court found that the will was drawn in conformity with the wishes of the testator, and therefore it is a valid will.

"It was but natural that Mr. Carle should reward those who were faithful to him," said the court. "In my opinion any man who has as little consideration for his own children as the (B. D. Carle), can't expect and doesn't deserve any consideration from his father."

The testimony of old "cronies" of O. C. Carle, 80, C. C. Carle, 80, and George W. Shires, 76—was one of the closing features of the case. Mr. Shires testified that shortly before Mr. Carle's death the latter told him he feared his son, Bert, would convert his will. For that reason he converted his home to Mrs. Burgess by trust deed.

JOYLESS JOYRIDE. ONE MEMBER IN COURT. A joyride, which checked the career of Norma Frei, 14, and Martha Adams, 17, and led to the arrest of Bernard J. Flynn, Herman Ackerman, Theodore Miranda and Ernest Johnson, came up in court yesterday.

One of the girls, who was on trial for having contributed to the dependency and the delinquency of the girls.

The story was in brief that the girls met the men at Venice and got in a machine, which, instead of taking them home, was driven to Chatsworth. On the way, the girls (testified in Judge Taft's court, they drank beer. Flynn, they stated, endeavored to get rooms for them at a hotel, but was turned down by the proprietor. They also said he made improper advances. The girls passed the rest of the night in the auto with one of the quartet. Flynn denied all of the charges. He said he endeavored to assist the girls and if he had secured a machine he intended to bring them to Los Angeles. The case will be concluded today.

COURTHOUSE PARAGRAPHS. PROCEEDINGS IN BRIEF. CASE APPEALED. Geo. For Hegri, a real estate operator, who was arrested at Redondo Beach for speeding, convicted and sentenced to pay $60 or sixty days in jail, has appealed from the judgment of the justice's court on the ground that he was compelled to testify against himself, and the furtherance of the case. The case was argued in the testimony as to the rate of speed he was traveling. The case will be carried to the Superior Court by Attorney Gardner & Gardner. Mr. Hegri testified his automobile was running only about sixteen miles an hour. The arresting officer said it was making thirty-two miles.

SHE SWOONS. MURDERER'S MURDER. Suscumbing to stress of emotion, Grace E. Kircher, the mystery maid charged with forgery, swooned in the arms of her counsel, Georgia P. Bullock, in Judge Craig's court yesterday. On the day, the jury was granted the woman probation, talked on the evil of wrongdoing, though committed under unhappy conditions. The mystery maid, it seemed, had worried over property in litigation. She had no money or friends, and she accepted a bill for her share of the proceeds of the forgery was about $75. She will go to Resthaven for Watts, caused the matter to be submitted by Judge Taft yesterday. A decision next Thursday will be final, and they will have the court.

Mr. Jackson, who says that his life and liberty is threatened, alleges that the Trustees have neglected and refused to perform their official duties by voting for the issuance of saloon liquor licenses while the "dry" ordinance was effective. The Trustees hold that the "dry" ordinance was revoked and that they are acting within their rights.

The Trustees alleged in a demurrer to the action is not the proper one to maintain, and that the complaint does not state a cause of action.

The Trustees are alleged to have issued retail liquor licenses to J. C. and T. H. Hernauer, Dolores Fields, and a wholesale liquor license to C. F. Doran.

MANY DOES. Edward D. Silent, Edward D. Silent & Co., C. H. Elmen-dorf and 100 John Jones are defendants in a suit filed yesterday by Francis Jeserun, who asks the court to decree due the plaintiff $99,164.19, principal in a promissory note, $500 costs for searching title to mortgaged premises, and $10,000 attorney's fees.

TWELFTH-HOUR CHANGE. A $1000 life insurance policy is the basis of a suit filed yesterday by Mrs. Iva L. Garrett against the Bankers' Life Association of Des Moines, which was issued to Edward E. Garrett, June 27, 1903. At that time the beneficiary was Mr. Garrett's first wife, Emma L. Garrett. She ceased to be his wife in 1910, and Mr. Garrett named his son, William E. Garrett, as beneficiary. March 10 last, five days before he died, Mr. Garrett revoked this designation and made his second wife beneficiary. The company, it is alleged, refuses to pay the policy, and the court is asked to give judgment for Mrs. Iva L. Garrett for $2030.

SUIT ON NOTE. An executrix of the estate of Victor Ponet, who died February 7 last, Mrs. N. J. Ponet was made defendant in a suit filed by the Merchants' & Insurers' Reporting Company yesterday to recover on a promissory note for $2500 executed by Mr. Ponet July 1, 1908, and payable July 1, 1913. The plaintiff alleges the claim was presented to the executrix, but that it was neither accepted nor rejected.

SUES STOCKHOLDERS. A suit for stockholders' liability was filed by G. B. Richmond against J. W. Thoron, Mrs. Fannie A. Boswell, the Alta Investment Company and seventy-five other defendants yesterday. Mr. Richmond, it is alleged, obtained judgment for $17,851 against the Julian Consolidated Mining Company March 37 last. Execution was issued and a levy made on the property of the corporation. The writ was returned unsatisfied. Judgment is asked for this amount against each defendant.

FIRST DAMAGE SUIT. The first damage suit against the Pacific Motor Coach Company was filed by Mrs. I. Immel and her husband, E. J. Immel, yesterday. Mrs. Immel asks $25,350 damages for injuries she received when, as she alleges, the conductor of the coach pushed her off. She says she fell, striking the back of her head and received injuries to her left shoulder and arm. Mrs. Immel was a passenger, getting on the coach at
